New Crisis Looming In Rail Dispute

Wirtz Reveals U.S. Again Will Attempt To Mediate Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a six-month cooling off period and forced settlement of two issues, the railroad work rules dispute appears to be headed for another crisis late next month.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz conceded as much Monday when he announced that the federal government once again is stepping in to try to mediate the dispute, now nearly five years old.

Wirtz, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds and Chairman Francis A. O'Neil Jr. of the National Mediation Board meet today in closed session with the railroads and five operating brotherhoods.

Wirtz met late Monday with railroads representatives, then the unions, and, finally, with both sides. Later he explained that the talks centered on "making the best use of the time that lies ahead of us."

On Feb. 25 a congressional deadline for settlement of the so-called secondary issues—issues not settled last November by compulsory arbitration — runs out and a nationwide rail strike could begin.

The issues involved in the current negotiations include such topics as wage structure, certain road and yard jobs, interdivisional runs, use of self-propelled equipment, night shift differentials, holiday pay and expenses away from home.

Wirtz hedged on any prediction that an agreement could be reached and said he hadn't talked to the negotiators about how much progress they had made in their weeks of bargaining.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, told a news conference there would be a nationwide strike unless the railroads relented on their insistence on what he said would mean "severe wage reductions."

The Communist Wall

Reds Urge Brandt Take Part In Any New Reopening

BERLIN (AP) — The East German government is demanding West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's personal participation at the start of any new negotiations to reopen the Communist wall to West Berliners.

The Communist demand appeared to raise a new obstacle to any agreement to renew the Christmas pass arrangement that ended at midnight Jan. 5 after 17 days of visits by West Berliners to relatives in the Soviet sector of the city.

The East German condition was put to Brandt in a letter from Deputy Premier Willi Stoph, an authoritative source disclosed Monday night. I was regarded as part of the Communist regime's continuing campaign to whittle away at the refusal of the Western Allies in Berlin and the West German government to recognize it.

Brandt is under pressure from the Western Allies and his own government to avoid any gestures that could hurt the cause of nonrecognition.

Brandt's city government as well as the Western Allies have stipulated that new negotiations must be held on the same level as the talks that resulted in the previous agreement. Those talks were held between Cultural Affairs Ministers Horst Korber of West Berlin and Erich Wendt of East Germany.

Brandt may reply to the Communist demand when Korber and Wendt meet later this week, sources said.

The two officials met last Saturday, and Stoph's letter to Brandt was handed over at the time. West Berlin also laid down its conditions in a seven-point memorandum, but the East German representative reportedly tore up the paper.

Specialized Education Being Eyed

Domestic Spending Might Be Higher; Congress Convenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A many-pronged attack on poverty through specialized education and other programs may be proposed Wednesday by President Johnson in his first State of the Union message to Congress, which resumes work today.

The Democratic President, struggling to keep the new budget below the $100 billion mark, nevertheless was said by Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to be scheduling domestic spending at a higher level than in recent years.

Mansfield said some of this will be channeled into housing, unemployment assistance, educational and other programs aimed at improving living conditions and the level of employment among the nation's poor.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview it remains to be seen whether Johnson can trim enough out of military outlays to finance such programs without breaking through the President's self-imposed limitation on expenditures.

"I have told the President that if he comes up with a Texas-size budget, he is going to be in trouble in Congress," Dirksen said. "On the other hand, if he cuts military expenditures to the point where Congress thinks national security is threatened, some of this money may be restored."

The second session of the 88th Congress gets under way at noon today, with indications that many members intend to prolong their holiday and not return until next week.

The House had before it a Senate-passed bill to rename the national cultural center in honor of the late John F. Kennedy and provide some federal financing for it. The Senate had no major business scheduled.

In his personally delivered message Wednesday, Johnson is expected to expand on a theme he has been preaching for years—that the nation cannot afford to "surrender to poverty" just to "serve the ends of political bookkeeping."

Hobbs To Run For Hancock Sheriff Again

Chester Area Man's Candidacy Is First For Post For GOP

Clayton H. Hobbs of Chester, who served as sheriff of Hancock County in 1956-60, will again seek the job as the county's chief law enforcement officer in the May 12 primary.

Hobbs, 56, of Laurel Heights became the first Republican candidate for sheriff when he filed his petition at the Courthouse in New Cumberland Monday afternoon.

Hobbs has been employed as a plant guard at Weirton Steel Co. for 23 years, exclusive of his four-year term as sheriff. In the 1955 general election, Hobbs was the winner over George Konchar in a highly - publicized recount of votes.

Hobbs has two sons, Clayton Jr., and Robert Shields, and an adopted daughter, Francis Lynn, 9.

Three candidates have already filed for the Democratic nomination — Donald Chaney of Chester, and James Petrelle and Joseph Rodak of Weirton.

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr filed for another four - year term on the Democratic ticket. Atty. Tarr is a former Weirton solicitor and is completing his first term. He is a graduate of the West Virginia University Law School and an Air Force veteran.

Francis W. Newbrough, 40, a Weirton photographer, became the first non-partisan candidate for the vacant Butler District seat on the County Board of Education.

Newbrough served eight months on the board in 1960. He is owner of the Weirton Studio of Photography and he and his wife, Irene, have four children.

Others who filed Monday afternoon included Val Guatteri, Democrat, and Charles R. Sole, Republican, for Butler District constable, and John Varlas, Republican, for the Butler District Executive Committee.

Deadline for filing is midnight Feb. 1.

$1.1 Billion Budget Urged By Scranton

$59 Million Higher But No Tax Boost, Governor Explains

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William Scranton proposed to the 1964 Pennsylvania Legislature today a record annual general fund budget of $1.168 billion, fatter by $59 million but without increased taxes.

"The important thing about this budget 'without-a-tax-increase,'" Scranton told legislators in his budget message on the opening day of their new session, "is that it is no 'stand pat' document. It signals not a fiscal year in which we will merely mark time, but a fiscal year in which we shall continue to build a better Pennsylvania.

To balance the 1964-65 budget, at least on paper, the governor is counting on $18,750,000 in unused appropriations from this and prior fiscal years, a $23.7-million surplus after all deficiencies and lapses are counted, $14.5 million which had been used to wipe out a deficit in the last fiscal year and higher revenues from existing taxes.

Budget experts anticipate that the total state taxes in 1964-65 will be $1,042,325,000 compared with $1,029,810,000 this year.

Works On Encyclical

Pope Paul Back At Vatican Desk

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI returned to his Vatican desk today after his historic Holy Land pilgrimage and reportedly began work on the first encyclical of his seven-month reign.

The 66-year-old pontiff, who shattered Roman Catholic precedent with his flying pilgrimage to the Bible land, was said to have in mind an entirely new type of encyclical devoted to scientific and technological research.

Informants said experts would help draw up the encyclical, timed apparently to coincide with the 400th anniversary this year of the birth of Galileo Galilei, 16th century Italian astronomer and experimental philosopher.

Galileo was condemned by the Roman Catholic hierarchy for his theories on the solar system. Examined by the Inquisition under threat of torture, he recanted and spent the remainder of his life in partial custody.

Past encyclicals have touched on scientific research only in passing. The last, Pope John XXIII's "Pacem in Terris" (peace on earth) last April, cited the potential benefits of science but it dwelt also on disarmament, world peace and a number of other matters.

In the wake of Pope Paul's resounding welcome home by more than a million cheering Romans, his trip continued to generate speculation of more papal travel abroad.

Indian sources said previously the pontiff has accepted an invitation to go to Bombay next fall for an international Euchristic congress. There also is a long-standing invitation, extended earlier to Pius XII and John XXIII, to visit the shrine of Mary at Lourdes, France.

There also is talk of a trip to Africa, which Pope Paul visited in 1962 while a cardinal.

Chester Asks Sewage Plant Bids Feb. 24

Advertising for bids for construction of Chester's planned sewage disposal plant and sewer system Jan. 23 was authorized by the Sanitary Board at a meeting Monday night.

Bids are to be filed by Feb. 24, according to Mayor Harry Abrams, chairman of the board.

The mayor said an additional $12,000 federal grant has been authorized for the project which already has some $110,000 in federal aid.

Total cost of the project has been estimated at about $500,000. It will be financed by revenue bonds which the Magnus & Co. of Cincinnati will handle, the bonds being paid off by revenue from the operation of the plant.

Mayor Abrams said the sewer charges have not yet been established. The rates were discussed at last night's session, but additional information is required before final action, he added.

Appropriation Lists $8,000 To Acquire 3 Police Cruisers

At its first regular session of 1964, Council gave approval Monday night to a temporary appropriation ordinance allocating $349,256 for routine operating expenses of all departments of municipal government in the first three months of the new year.

The appropriation will allow the city to meet payrolls and other day-to-day operating expenses while the finance committee works on the allocations for the full year. The general appropriation ordinance is expected to be ready for Council action by late March or early April.

The ordinance also provides a total of $18,000 for three major purchases. Council allocated $8,000 to buy three new police cruisers, replacing three existing radio cars; set up $3,000 for purchase of 1,400 feet of new 1½- and 2½-inch hose for the fire department, and provided $7,000 to replace the 30-year-old boilers in the City Hall heating system.

Companion legislation authorized the administration to call for bids on each purchase or project.

Enactment of the three-month appropriation is customary at Council's first meeting of the new year. The authority for expenditure of money contained in the 1963 appropriation expired with the old year.

Here are the allocations, listed by funds:

Sewage, $49,304; relief, $10,000; streets, $34,008; Civil Defense, $1,000; improved street lighting, $1,914, and income tax, $7,414.

The appropriation ordinance contains an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor Merrill D. Hall. Without

Hephner Back On Job Following Suspension

He was suspended last week by Mayor William Daugherty as a disciplinary action for failure to "comply with written orders of the safety-service director."

The controversy was over a footnote added to a work schedule made out by the chief and submitted to Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare.

West Virginia Legislature To Convene

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Talk of politics is increasing in Charleston as members of the 1964 Legislature arrive for a 30-day session, beginning Wednesday.

The "budget session" starts at 2 p.m. with an address by Gov. W. W. Barron to a joint meeting of the Senate and House of Delegates.

The Legislature is limited in even-numbered years to consideration of the budget for the next fiscal year, and other "emergency" items listed in a previously issued proclamation by the governor.

Indications this year are that the budget will be one of the least controversial matters to be considered, as Gov. Barron has included 24 items in his call.

Bitter fights are expected over a new Sunday-closing law and a bill to establish cooperative organizations providing low-cost medical care to members.

Goldwater Calls Johnson 'New Dealer'

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting his bid for the White House, has called President Johnson a New Dealer who talks like a conservative and faces the liability of programs inherited from President John F. Kennedy.

"I am going to do everything in my power to return the presidency of the United States to the principles which have made this nation great and which can make it greater," the Arizona senator declared Monday night in his first address as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater said he thinks he already has some 500 of the 655 delegate votes it would take to win him top spot on the GOP ticket at the San Francisco convention next July.

Goldwater made his first campaign speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner which originally was scheduled Nov. 23, the day after President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

New Crisis Looming In Rail Dispute

Wirtz Reveals U.S. Again Will Attempt To Mediate Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a six-month cooling off period and forced settlement of two issues, the railroad work rules dispute appears to be headed for another crisis late next month.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz conceded as much Monday when he announced that the federal government once again is stepping in to try to mediate the dispute, now nearly five years old.

Wirtz, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds and Chairman Francis A. O'Neil Jr. of the National Mediation Board meet today in closed session with the railroads and five operating brotherhoods.

Wirtz met late Monday with railroads representatives, then the unions, and, finally, with both sides. Later he explained that the talks centered on "making the best use of the time that lies ahead of us."

On Feb. 25 a congressional deadline for settlement of the so-called secondary issues—issues not settled last November by compulsory arbitration — runs out and a nationwide rail strike could begin.

The issues involved in the current negotiations include such topics as wage structure, certain road and yard jobs, interdivisional runs, use of self-propelled equipment, night shift differentials, holiday pay and expenses away from home.

Wirtz hedged on any prediction that an agreement could be reached and said he hadn't talked to the negotiators about how much progress they had made in their weeks of bargaining.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, told a news conference there would be a nationwide strike unless the railroads relented on their insistence on what he said would mean "severe wage reductions."

The Communist Wall

Reds Urge Brandt Take Part In Any New Reopening

BERLIN (AP) — The East German government is demanding West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's personal participation at the start of any new negotiations to reopen the Communist wall to West Berliners.

The Communist demand appeared to raise a new obstacle to any agreement to renew the Christmas pass arrangement that ended at midnight Jan. 5 after 17 days of visits by West Berliners to relatives in the Soviet sector of the city.

The East German condition was put to Brandt in a letter from Deputy Premier Willi Stoph, an authoritative source disclosed Monday night. I was regarded as part of the Communist regime's continuing campaign to whittle away at the refusal of the Western Allies in Berlin and the West German government to recognize it.

Brandt is under pressure from the Western Allies and his own government to avoid any gestures that could hurt the cause of nonrecognition.

Brandt's city government as well as the Western Allies have stipulated that new negotiations must be held on the same level as the talks that resulted in the previous agreement. Those talks were held between Cultural Affairs Ministers Horst Korber of West Berlin and Erich Wendt of East Germany.

Brandt may reply to the Communist demand when Korber and Wendt meet later this week, sources said.

The two officials met last Saturday, and Stoph's letter to Brandt was handed over at the time. West Berlin also laid down its conditions in a seven-point memorandum, but the East German representative reportedly tore up the paper.

Specialized Education Being Eyed

Domestic Spending Might Be Higher; Congress Convenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A many-pronged attack on poverty through specialized education and other programs may be proposed Wednesday by President Johnson in his first State of the Union message to Congress, which resumes work today.

The Democratic President, struggling to keep the new budget below the $100 billion mark, nevertheless was said by Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to be scheduling domestic spending at a higher level than in recent years.

Mansfield said some of this will be channeled into housing, unemployment assistance, educational and other programs aimed at improving living conditions and the level of employment among the nation's poor.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview it remains to be seen whether Johnson can trim enough out of military outlays to finance such programs without breaking through the President's self-imposed limitation on expenditures.

"I have told the President that if he comes up with a Texas-size budget, he is going to be in trouble in Congress," Dirksen said. "On the other hand, if he cuts military expenditures to the point where Congress thinks national security is threatened, some of this money may be restored."

The second session of the 88th Congress gets under way at noon today, with indications that many members intend to prolong their holiday and not return until next week.

The House had before it a Senate-passed bill to rename the national cultural center in honor of the late John F. Kennedy and provide some federal financing for it. The Senate had no major business scheduled.

In his personally delivered message Wednesday, Johnson is expected to expand on a theme he has been preaching for years—that the nation cannot afford to "surrender to poverty" just to "serve the ends of political bookkeeping."

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Talk of politics is increasing in Charleston as members of the 1964 Legislature arrive for a 30-day session, beginning Wednesday.

The "budget session" starts at 2 p.m. with an address by Gov. W. W. Barron to a joint meeting of the Senate and House of Delegates.

The Legislature is limited in even-numbered years to consideration of the budget for the next fiscal year, and other "emergency" items listed in a previously issued proclamation by the governor.

Indications this year are that the budget will be one of the least controversial matters to be considered, as Gov. Barron has included 24 items in his call.

Bitter fights are expected over a new Sunday-closing law and a bill to establish cooperative organizations providing low-cost medical care to members.

18 U.S. Planes Fly 6,150 Miles Nonstop

MORON AIR FORCE BASE, Spain (AP)—In a new demonstration of mobility, the U.S. Tactical Air Command sent 18 F104 fighters on the first nonstop deployment from the U.S. West Coast to Europe Monday in 10 hours, 40 minutes.

Making the 6,150-mile flight from George Air Force Base, in California, to this base near Sevilla, the 476th Fighter Squadron was refueled six times in flight.

Works On Encyclical

Pope Paul Back At Vatican Desk

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI returned to his Vatican desk today after his historic Holy Land pilgrimage and reportedly began work on the first encyclical of his seven-month reign.

The 66-year-old pontiff, who shattered Roman Catholic precedent with his flying pilgrimage to the Bible land, was said to have in mind an entirely new type of encyclical devoted to scientific and technological research.

Informants said experts would help draw up the encyclical, timed apparently to coincide with the 400th anniversary this year of the birth of Galileo Galilei, 16th century Italian astronomer and experimental philosopher.

Galileo was condemned by the Roman Catholic hierarchy for his theories on the solar system. Examined by the Inquisition under threat of torture, he recanted and spent the remainder of his life in partial custody.

Past encyclicals have touched on scientific research only in passing. The last, Pope John XXIII's "Pacem in Terris" (peace on earth) last April, cited the potential benefits of science but it dwelt also on disarmament, world peace and a number of other matters.

In the wake of Pope Paul's resounding welcome home by more than a million cheering Romans, his trip continued to generate speculation of more papal travel abroad.

Indian sources said previously the pontiff has accepted an invitation to go to Bombay next fall for an international Eucharistic congress. There also is a long-standing invitation, extended earlier to Pius XII and John XXIII, to visit the shrine of Mary at Lourdes, France.

There also is talk of a trip to Africa, which Pope Paul visited in 1962 while a cardinal.

Chester Asks Sewage Plant Bids Feb. 24

Advertising for bids for construction of Chester's planned sewage disposal plant and sewer system Jan. 23 was authorized by the Sanitary Board at a meeting Monday night.

Bids are to be filed by Feb. 24, according to Mayor Harry Abrams, chairman of the board.

The mayor said an additional $12,000 federal grant has been authorized for the project which already has some $110,000 in federal aid.

Total cost of the project has been estimated at about $500,000. It will be financed by revenue bonds which the Magnus & Co. of Cincinnati will handle, the bonds being paid off by revenue from the operation of the plant.

Mayor Abrams said the sewer charges have not yet been established. The rates were discussed at last night's session, but additional information is required before final action, he added.

Appropriation Lists $8,000 To Acquire 3 Police Cruisers

At its first regular session of 1964, Council gave approval Monday night to a temporary appropriation ordinance allocating $349,256 for routine operating expenses of all departments of municipal government in the first three months of the new year.

The appropriation will allow the city to meet payrolls and other day-to-day operating expenses while the finance committee works on the allocations for the full year. The general appropriation ordinance is expected to be ready for Council action by late March or early April.

The ordinance also provides a total of $18,000 for three major purchases. Council allocated $8,000 to buy three new police cruisers, replacing three existing radio cars; set up $3,000 for purchase of 1,400 feet of new 1½- and 2½-inch hose for the fire department, and provided $7,000 to replace the 30-year-old boilers in the City Hall heating system.

Companion legislation authorized the administration to call for bids on each purchase or project.

Enactment of the three-month appropriation is customary at Council's first meeting of the new year. The authority for expenditure of money contained in the 1963 appropriation expired with the old year.

Here are the allocations, listed by funds:

Sewage, $49,304; relief, $10,000; streets, $34,008; Civil Defense, $1,000; improved street lighting, $1,914, and income tax, $7,414.

The appropriation ordinance contains an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor Merrill D. Hall. Without

Hephner Back On Job Following Suspension

He was suspended last week by Mayor William Daugherty as a disciplinary action for failure to "comply with written orders of the safety-service director."

The controversy was over a footnote added to a work schedule made out by the chief and submitted to Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare.

Goldwater Calls Johnson 'New Dealer'

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting his bid for the White House, has called President Johnson a New Dealer who talks like a conservative and faces the liability of programs inherited from President John F. Kennedy.

"I am going to do everything in my power to return the presidency of the United States to the principles which have made this nation great and which can make it greater," the Arizona senator declared Monday night in his first address as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater said he thinks he already has some 500 of the 655 delegate votes it would take to win him top spot on the GOP ticket at the San Francisco convention next July.

Goldwater made his first campaign speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner which originally was scheduled Nov. 23, the day after President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

Succeeds James Lowe

McConville Heads School Board

Harry D. McConville was elected president of the Board of Education for a one-year term when it reorganized Monday night for 1964 after three new members were seated.

MRS. NESSIE R. Dunlop also was elected unanimously as vice president. She will replace James Moss, another retiring member.

McConville, an agent for the Internal Revenue Service, and Mrs. Dunlop, credit manager of the D. M. Ogilvie & Co., are starting their third year on the board.

Taking their seats on the board for four - year terms were Samuel W. Brown, city postmaster and a former member; William C. Heasley, an insurance agent who now manages the Prudential Insurance Co. office in Ashtabula, and John R. Woomer, self - employed building contractor. The oath was given by Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk.

New Funds Awaited

Money Problem To Plague Board

The high cost of substitute teachers and a perennial financial problem were discussed by the 1963 Board of Education Monday night before it adjourned and a new board took over.

The financial problem was aired briefly after Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, reported the schools finished last year with a balance of $138,489.90 in all funds.

It includes $114,973.14 in the general fund, $16,030.34 in bond retirement, $2,549.97 in the lunchroom account, $2,326.58 in repair and maintenance, $2,212.59 in the improvement fund and $397.28 in the night school account, she reported.

THE MONEY should be sufficient for this month, she said, but pointed out the first state foundation check is not due until Feb. 20.

Miss Liebschner said she has no idea when the first tax money will be received from the county auditor. She said she understands the real estate tax statements naven't been mailed yet.

James Lowe, retiring president, said he would be diappointed if the problem continues after the efforts the board made.

The board arranged a meeting last fall with County Auditor Kenneth Bell and County Treasurer Vincent Judge to discuss the financial problem caused by delayed tax statements.

LOWE POINTED out the board had to spend nearly $1,200 for interest charges last year because of repeated borrowing to meet salaries and other obligations.

In response to his question, Lowe was told the board paid out nearly $24,000 last year in salaries for substitute teachers.

The retiring president said he was "disturbed and disappointed" that the board hadn't taken any action on the problem which he has raised on three occasions.

"We spent $17,000 in 1962 for substitutes and now it has gone up. What's to keep it from going to $25,000 or $30,000 under the system we have?"

Lowe said he is not opposed to paying for substitutes where regular teachers are ill, but said he believes some abuse the sick leave provision. He said he believes 50 per cent of the staff never are off "which makes the situation worse."

JAMES MOSS, vice president, asked what can be done when the teachers have sick leave coming. "Are you condoning $24,000 worth of illness?" Lowe asked. "I might not be happy about it but there's nothing I can do," Moss replied.

Harry D. McConville pointed out the figure is over $6,000 more than in 1962. "There has to be a stopping point. Here's an additional $6,000 out of the budget and we are losing $29,000 in state foundation funds," he said.

Supt. Paul H. Blair explained teachers are allowed to accumulate up to 90 days sick leave but pointed out the policy provides not only sick leave for a teacher but also covers illness or death in the immediate family.

"If it weren't for the married women on the faculty, we wouldn't be able to staff our schools."

He pointed out a woman teacher with three or four children may be off for several days if a communicable disease gets started and runs its course in the family.

THE superintendent conceded some teachers may be abusing the privilege.

Asked by Lowe if he were satisfied with the situation, Blair said he is not satisfied "but I don't know of any positive measure to take."

He said the problem is discussed frequently at principals' meetings and also has been stressed at meetings with teachers.

Asst. Supt. George Hargraves said the figure does not represent a true picture, pointing out that the schools often are unable to locate substitutes for the upper grades.

McConville asked if it would be feasible in the upper grades to discontinue the class rather than have a substitute for one day. "I don't see what good can be accomplished."

Blair replied, "When we put money ahead of education, we are on the wrong path." He explained also that teachers are required to have teaching plans made out so when a substitute is required the class can continue.

AS THE old board prepared to adjourn, Lowe pointed out he believes the school board had left an imprint on the community during its terms, citing construction of Westgate, East Junior High and LaCroft buildings and an addition at Taft.

"But I'm not proud that we left the Central problem for you," he said.

Lowe said his greatest rewards have been received at each graduation, expressing his thanks to the administrative staff and Miss Liebschner.

Although leaving the board, Moss said he will continue to keep his eye on the educational system.

C. Walter Ashbaugh, the third retiring member, was unable to attend but expressed his appreciation to the board for its teamwork through Blair.

Blair said personally he will be "eternally grateful to you (the retiring board) for starting a new trend in my life."

Hargraves, Carl Pelini, high school principal, Miss Liebschner, McConville and Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop also spoke briefly, lauding the services of the three retiring members.

Salineville's Council Picks Committees

Mayor Stanley Fitch announced appointments after new Councilmen Howard Ahlborn and Eugene Jarvis took the oath of office. The committees, with chairmen listed first, include:

Street and Light — Clyde Polen, Donald Lewis and Jarvis; Building and Health—Lewis, Polen and Jarvis; Safety—Gillis Earl, Ahlborn and Mrs. Kate Weaver, and Finance — Weaver, Ahlborn and Earl.

Wilford Burnip was appointed for a six-year term. Pete Growall was reappointed street foreman.

Also given the oath of office were S. R. Davis, clerk, and Miss Myrtle Strabley, treasurer.

At the suggestion of Councilman Lewis, Council authorized legislation be prepared requiring motorists to remove cars from Main St. in event of a heavy snowfall to permit snow removal. Council also ordered two new fire hydrants to replace old ones as part of a program of replacement.

Eugene Webster of Monroe Heights reported pumps placed in a water main to the heights area have been removed and that adequate water supply is being received.

The next meeting will be Jan. 27.

County Granted New Trial In Job Firing

LISBON — Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Monday granted a new trial in the suit of Mrs. Jane Case of Columbiana against Columbiana County Commissioners.

On June 27, the former switchboard operator at the Courthouse, replaced when the Republican Board of Commissioners assumed offices, received a Common Pleas Court verdict for $3,952.50 and costs.

June 29, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and Assistant Atty. Howard Cole filed motions against the judgment and for a new trial.

Judge Buzzard overruled the motion on the judgment but continued the new trial plea. On Aug. 5, he ruled that the verdict as to damages was not supported by sufficient evidence and at that time the motion for new trial was granted, unless Mrs. Case, on or before Aug. 15, consented to a remittiture in the amount of $3,400.50, which was not done.

The new trial date was not set as the prosecutor is now busy with the January Grand Jury session.

Slick Streets Here Result In Collisions

A Wellsville woman and a city girl were hurt in one three-car collision and six pupils aboard a school bus escaped injury in another crash involving three vehicles Monday.

Blamed on icy streets, the crashes were two blocks apart and occurred within 25 minutes of each other, police said.

In a third crash yesterday afternoon, a New Cumberland area motorist was fined for failing to yield the right-of-way after a collision at W. 8th St. and Shadyside Ave. in which a Wellsville motorist was hurt.

The three-car crash at Minerva and Walnut Sts. at 8:34 a. m. sent Charma Lee Hanlon, 23, of 930 Appian Way, Wellsville, driver of one of the autos, and Christine Glonek, 12, a passenger in a car operated by Jerome R. Glonek, 36, of 822 Avondale St., to hospitals, police said.

Mrs. Hanlon was treated for a whiplash injury of the neck, City Hospital said.

Glonek told police he was headed west at about 10 to 15 miles an hour and applied his brakes to see if the streets were slippery. He then pumped the brakes several times, but slid into the rear end of the 1955 two-door operated by the Wellsville woman and owned by Harvey Larkins, 720 Daisy Alley.

The rear end of his car swung around slightly and struck the rear fender of a stalled car in the opposite lane operated by Paul V. Pattison, 46, of 505 Louisiana Ave., Chester, Glonek told officers.

The woman told police she had halted for the stop sign when her car was struck and Pattison said his car had stalled and he was sitting in the opposite lane when Glonek's car swung around and struck his fender.

The five boys and a girl aboard the bus of the Retarded Children's School escaped injury at 8:10 a. m. yesterday when the vehicle slid broadside while descending icy E. 6th St. near Walnut St. and struck two parked autos.

The bus driver, Kenneth P. Moore, 22, of 855½ N. Market St., Lisbon, told officers he started down E. 6th St. when the vehicle started to skid and the bus slid sideways and struck the two cars parked on the opposite sides of the street.

The crash at 4:07 p. m. in the West End involved a 1963 auto operated by Earl R. Eaton, 65, of New Cumberland R. D. 1 and a 1952 sedan driven by Charles A. Wilson, 30, of 505 10th St., Wellsville.

Eaton, cited for failing to yield the right of way, told police he saw Wilson's eastbound car but thought he had sufficient time to pull onto W. 8th from Shadyside. He said he was pulling into the inside lane.

Wilson said he saw the New Cumberland man's auto coming toward him and blew his horn but the auto struck his car, shoving it into the guard rails and damaging a three-foot section.

Eaton was fined $10 and costs this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff who told the defendant, "By your own testimony, I have to find you guilty."

The New Cumberland man, who pleaded innocent, reiterated to the court what he had told officers—that he saw the approaching car but thought he had sufficient time to pull out. He also claimed Wilson struck the rear of his auto.

Wilson was treated at City Hospital last night for a back sprain he said he suffered in the crash.

Lisbon Driver Fined In State Patrol Case

LISBON — George M. Ford, 28, of 106 S. Beaver St. was fined $5 and costs Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for failing to stop within the assured clear distance. Four forfeited bonds in other State Highway Patrol cases. They were:

Harry E. Randall, 50, of Youngstown, $20 for failure to display safety equipment on a commercial vehicle, and Garth R. French, 25, of Lisbon R. D. 4 and Donald E. Meyer and Emil C. Wiseman, 51, of Ameagle, W. Va., $15 each for speeding.

Dr. Banfield Receives New President Term

The Stanton Local Board of Education reorganized for 1964 at a meeting Monday night in Hammondsville, inducting two new members and re-electing Dr. William S. Banfield as president.

Thomas Lysle of Hammondsville and Joseph Urich of New Somerset Rd. were installed as new members by Arch L. Wardeska, clerk. They succeed Keith Cline and Kenneth Burgett.

Lysle, an employe of the Sterling China Co., and Urich, an electrician, won four-year terms in the November election.

Dr. Banfield was returned as president for a 16th consecutive term. Urich was elected vice president, and Wardeska re-elected to a four-year term as clerk of the board.

The board passed the annual appropriation resolution in the amount of $598,791.

The resignation of Tom Vichich, English instructor, was accepted. He has accepted employment in an industrial firm in Brilliant.

Use Boron with Ice-gard®
for positive protection against fuel line freeze-up in any Ohio weather

When you get fuel line freeze-up, you're stuck! Your car will not run! Chances are you're in for a costly tow truck trip. And then you'll probably have to wait . . . and wait for your fuel line to thaw out in a heated garage!

You can prevent this serious winter driving problem by using Boron Gasoline with its special Ice-gard ingredient. Your very first tankful of Boron with Ice-gard protects you against a frozen fuel line. And continuous use gives you positive, winter-long protection against fuel line freeze-up!

For years, drivers have protected themselves against fuel line freeze-up by buying fuel line anti-icers and adding them to their gasoline. Regular use of Boron with Ice-gard makes this unnecessary! Ice-gard is already in Boron so you are protected automatically against fuel line freeze-up! And you get this extra protection at no extra cost!

Fuel line section... 3/16" inside diameter. Only a little ice can block it!

JUST THIS MUCH ICE CAN STOP YOU COLD! In freezing weather, water condensed from the air in your gas tank can settle in a low point of your fuel line and freeze solid. Gasoline can't get to your engine! You stop cold! The special Ice-gard ingredient in Boron keeps water from freezing. Ice can't form; Boron with Ice-gard flows freely!

Boron with Ice-gard eliminates the need to add anti-icers to your gasoline!

Slick Streets Here Result In Collisions

A Wellsville woman and a city girl were hurt in one three-car collision and six pupils aboard a school bus escaped injury in another crash involving three vehicles Monday.

Blamed on icy streets, the crashes were two blocks apart and occurred within 25 minutes of each other, police said.

In a third crash yesterday afternoon, a New Cumberland area motorist was fined for failing to yield the right-of-way after a collision at W. 8th St. and Shadyside Ave. in which a Wellsville motorist was hurt.

The three-car crash at Minerva and Walnut Sts. at 8:34 a. m. sent Charma Lee Hanlon, 23, of 930 Appian Way, Wellsville, driver of one of the autos, and Christine Glonek, 12, a passenger in a car operated by Jerome R. Glonek, 36, of 822 Avondale St., to hospitals, police said.

Mrs. Hanlon was treated for a whiplash injury of the neck, City Hospital said.

Glonek told police he was headed west at about 10 to 15 miles an hour and applied his brakes to see if the streets were slippery. He then pumped the brakes several times, but slid into the rear end of the 1955 two-door operated by the Wellsville woman and owned by Harvey Larkins, 720 Daisy Alley.

The rear end of his car swung around slightly and struck the rear fender of a stalled car in the opposite lane operated by Paul V. Pattison, 46, of 505 Louisiana Ave., Chester, Glonek told officers.

The woman told police she had halted for the stop sign when her car was struck and Pattison said his car had stalled and he was sitting in the opposite lane when Glonek's car swung around and struck his fender.

The five boys and a girl aboard the bus of the Retarded Children's School escaped injury at 8:10 a. m. yesterday when the vehicle slid broadside while descending icy E. 6th St. near Walnut St. and struck two parked autos.

The bus driver, Kenneth P. Moore, 22, of 855½ N. Market St., Lisbon, told officers he started down E. 6th St. when the vehicle started to skid and the bus slid sideways and struck the two cars parked on the opposite sides of the street.

Neither of the auto owners knew of the accident until advised by police, officers said.

The crash at 4:07 p. m. in the West End involved a 1963 auto operated by Earl R. Eaton, 65, of New Cumberland R. D. 1 and a 1952 sedan driven by Charles A. Wilson, 30, of 505 10th St., Wellsville.

Eaton, cited for failing to yield the right of way, told police he saw Wilson's eastbound car but thought he had sufficient time to pull onto W. 8th from Shadyside. He said he was pulling into the inside lane.

Wilson said he saw the New Cumberland man's auto coming toward him and blew his horn but the auto struck his car, shoving it into the guard rails and damaging a three-foot section.

Eaton was fined $10 and costs this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff who told the defendant, "By your own testimony, I have to find you guilty."

The New Cumberland man, who pleaded innocent, reiterated to the court what he had told officers—that he saw the approaching car but thought he had sufficient time to pull out. He also claimed Wilson struck the rear of his auto.

Wilson was treated at City Hospital last night for a back sprain he said he suffered in the crash.

Rogers Firemen Get Long Lease On Hall

ROGERS — A 10-year lease of the Community Hall by the volunteer fire department for a token fee of $1 was officially signed by Council and the firemen Monday night.

Firemen will utilize the hall for a fire station and be responsible for maintenance and renting of the structure under terms of the lease.

Council also authorized a flat rate payment for power for the traffic lights at Route 7, separating the payment from electricity for the Community Hall.

Under the terms of the leasing agreement, the village will pay for the traffic light power and the firemen for the electricity for the building. At present, the Ohio Edison Co. bills the village for the lights and hall electricity as one source.

Mayor Robert McCreary presided at the session which all members attended, along with Atty. Donald Elliott, solicitor. Six firemen also attended.

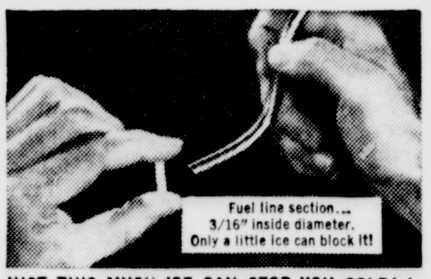
When you get fuel line freeze-up, you're stuck! Your car will not run! Chances are you're in for a costly tow truck trip. And then you'll probably have to wait . . . and wait for your fuel line to thaw out in a heated garage!



JUST THIS MUCH ICE CAN STOP YOU COLD! In freezing weather, water condensed from the air in your gas tank can settle in a low point of your fuel line and freeze solid. Gasoline can't get to your engine! You stop cold! The special Ice-gard ingredient in Boron keeps water from freezing. Ice can't form; Boron with Ice-gard flows freely!

You can prevent this serious winter driving problem by using Boron Gasoline with its special Ice-gard ingredient. Your very first tankful of Boron with Ice-gard protects you against a frozen fuel line. And continuous use gives you positive, winter-long protection against fuel line freeze-up!

For years, drivers have protected themselves against fuel line freeze-up by buying fuel line anti-icers and adding them to their gasoline. Regular use of Boron with Ice-gard makes this unnecessary! Ice-gard is already in Boron so you are protected automatically against fuel line freeze-up! And you get this extra protection at no extra cost!

Boron with Ice-gard eliminates the need to add anti-icers to your gasoline!

The Challenges Will Be Flying

First pop out of the box, Gov. Rockefeller has challenged Sen. Goldwater to debate the issues in the contest for the Republican presidential nomination.

There will be a lot of this challenging to debate this year after what happened in 1960. But there also will be a lot more thought given to it than there was before, because 1960 taught some hard lessons.

A recent television documentary on the 1960 presidential election showed what some of them were.

Richard M. Nixon, famed as a debater, did irreparable damage to his political image in 1960 because in his TV "debates" he presented a less attractive personal image than his younger and better-looking adversary. One single triviality, Mr. Nixon's choice of a gray suit in the first "debate," put him at a gross disadvantage. He looked thin and exhausted because his suit did not televise well. He should have.

THE SUBJECT of the "debates" illustrates another point.

What happened to Quemoy, Matsu, the missile gap and the allegation that the United States was suffering from lack of dynamic leadership after the campaign?

What happened to the claim that younger leadership would make the nation leap forward with vigor and joy?

What happened to the allegation that the preceding administration had grown tired in office and was letting the country go to seed?

Were these really the issues of the 1960 campaign? Or were they only things the "debaters" talked about, the way high school and college "debaters" talk about "Resolved: That an increase in highway speed from 65 to 70 miles an hour represents a major threat to the security of motorists in vehicles weighing less than three tons"?

And one more point was illustrated, most important of all. Old-time politicos contend that only a fool lets himself be used to the advantage of a political rival.

IN THE 1960 campaign, Vice President Nixon needed no TV exposure. He had been in the camera's eye continuously for eight years.

His opponent was still relatively unknown. John Kennedy had everything to gain, and Nixon had everything to lose—and Nixon proved it by losing everything.

In the 1964 campaign, Sen. Goldwater is the man to beat. He is the man with everything to lose by sharing a platform anytime, anywhere with a rival.

When they challenge him to debate them, they are asking him, in effect, to let them share his platform, his time and his audience.

Easing The Danger

Thompson Park is due to become an even more popular recreation center with the announcement by Mayor Hall that supervised sled riding and ice skating is being arranged.

With two tragic deaths and other injuries already on the record this winter, as broad a program of supervised winter recreation as possible is desirable in the interest both of enjoyment and safety.

Roping off of streets for sledders in various parts of the city would fit in well with any such supervised program.

Off On The Wrong Foot

With due respect to W. Willard Wirtz, U.S. secretary of labor, his reported idea for boosting employment by eliminating overtime does no justice to his reputation for knowing what things are all about.

Overtime is not carried on by employers to keep worthy Americans from finding places on payrolls. There are many reasons for overtime, none of them having anything to do with employers' views on spreading work. Secretary Wirtz would be off on the wrong foot if he headed for employers.

It is the natural inclination of people who already have jobs to make the most of them. In many places of employment and in some unions overtime pay is regarded as normal. Interference would be resented.

Employes with long job records would take it as an affront if bypassed when there was extra work to do. The Wage and Hours Act, standardizing the work week at 40 hours, was designed to spread work. It has the effect in many situations of cutting down the total number of jobs while boosting the take-home of jobholders.

Even if the government were able to make employers pay triple and quadruple rates for overtime, there still would be no guarantee of more jobs. The net result might very well be to eliminate certain kinds of work, instead, because it could not be performed profitably.

In any event—and giving the proposition the benefit of every doubt, there would be no large-scale benefit if overtime actually could be eliminated.

It can't be, of course, but even if it could be there would be nothing like 919,000 more jobs, an estimate Secretary Writz must have run up during the holidays on one of those toy computers that came out this last Christmas for the kids who had everything.

A Short Life

There's something rather sad about the annual cleanup of Christmas trees by the city.

Where once they were sparkling, almost life-like and a delight to the youngsters, the trees now unceremoniously are being hauled away in trucks to meet the fate of all Christmas trees.

We're not trying to make a case against the city workers who are doing the collecting. They're doing their job and are performing a service which we all appreciate.

But with one of the trucks having passed by not too long ago, we couldn't let the occasion pass without a parting note on behalf of the Christmas trees.

Out Of The Mouths Of The Old

It would be interesting to hear 88-year-old Konrad Adenauer ramble on about the "capitalistic stupidity" he finds in Western willingness to sell needed goods to the Soviet Union. Out of the mouths of the young and the old . . .

The former German chancellor hits a nerve when he talks this way. It would be better if he didn't, but as long as he already has, he should spell out what he means.

Before Western capitalism sells anything to the Russian government that it needs, it should drive a hard ideological bargain, he believes. But it won't, because capitalism exists by being capitalistic, not ideological. Herr Adenauer needs to take that into account.

When the United States sells wheat, machinery, technical know-how or anything else to Russia, it wants nothing but money. When Great Britain or Canada makes a sale to Russia, they want nothing but money—no ideology.

That is what capitalism is—a system of economics in which exchange of goods is carried on by private enterprise under competitive conditions. It cannot be ideological unless the government intervenes.

The Soviet Union is not buying wheat from the United States. It is buying wheat from private enterprise in the United States, with the government's permission. Private enterprise does not exist to wage ideological war but to make profit.

The former chancellor of West Germany, a socialist society for the most part, finds this hard to understand—and for most Europeans it gets harder to understand all the time, because most Europeans are more than half socialist and many are 100 per cent socialist. "Capitalistic stupidity" is actually capitalistic expediency. Expediency is what always marks capitalism.

If capitalism tries to wage ideological warfare, it cannot be private enterprise capitalism any more but state capitalism, the last stop before socialism. Herr Adenauer wouldn't be alarmed by that. But most Americans would.

When you come down to it, how else could an aging bald man kiss that many pretty women without risking a broken jaw. Happy New Year, dollies, all over again.

Even staunch Republicans are beginning to realize the toughest break they could have drawn in the political shuffle was Lyndon B. Johnson in the White House at the outset of the 1964 presidential election. Voters who might have switched because they were ready for a change now have a change.

I can think of nothing good to say about winter, but if pressed for a single plus factor would have to say it is the absence of flies and other crawling and buzzing insects.

The way it looks to me, anyone who handles public money can be put under a cloud by an examiner's report covering an extended period of time. It makes you wonder how some respected citizens in private enterprise would look if their financial affairs were gone over periodically with a fine-tooth comb.

It would be a fine idea if people would take seriously President Johnson's turn of the phrase about learning to disagree without being disagreeable.

After watching dozens of games on television, I still have the conditioned reflexes that come out of seven years of high school and college football. I duck and twist and at the end of the telecast am as bushed as the players who watched the game from the bench.

I am one of the rare citizens who feel grateful to the hearty handful of our fellow citizens willing to take the rap for public service. I feel that whatever they get out of it isn't a reasonable down payment for the abuse they are required to take.

Kennedy Case Remains Wide Open

By Victor Riesel

Despite the public's belief that the security reports on the assassination of John Kennedy are virtually all completed, the case of the double killing still appears wide open.

Victor Riesel

Special FBI agents are tracking down every one of jaunty Jack Ruby's connections in many cities. They are not satisfied that they have them all. Federal men in the bureau and Secret Service, working with the Central Intelligence Agency and State Department "security" people are retracing the movements and back ground of Lee Harvey Oswald and his widow.

Another investigatory force will be the President's Commission on the Assassination of John F. Kennedy. It has not yet swung into action in its 12-room headquarters covering the entire fourth floor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Building at 200 Maryland Ave. NE, Washington.

When it does so, early in the year, under the direction of the Nebraska-born, 56-year-old legal scientist J. Lee Rankin, it will conduct investigations of its own on several levels. It will not have an investigation division but will draw on government agencies as it wishes.

THE COMMISSION already has established a permanent liaison with the Justice Department. This is maintained by the assistant U.S. attorney general, Howard Willens, who is second in charge of the Criminal Division of the department. He has been peeled off from "Justice" and is spending full time at the commission headquarters.

Commission members themselves will probe into the assassination instead of doing an armchair research job. They will go into the field singly and in groups and it's fully expected that the entire commission will eventually sit in Dallas. There appears to be no doubt that they will talk at great length with Ruby, the cocky killer of the alleged assassin.

That will come after the trial, it can be presumed. Some insiders expect a swift court session for Ruby. Then, Ruby will be placed under oath by the commission and will testify as a regular witness. The commission has the power to issue subpoenas.

DIGGING into Oswald's "fuzzy Marxism," (a State Department description) will hardly be difficult for either former CIA director Allen Dulles, or for the commission's chief counsel J. Lee Rankin.

The latter, while solicitor-general, argued for the United States in the Supreme Court on the Communist passport and Communist party membership cases under the Smith Act.

Back in April 1955 Rankin wrote a scholarly treatise on the question of trading in surplus agricultural commodities with Soviet bloc countries.

All sides, including the highest bar association circles, consider him one of the finest and most objective legal minds in the land.

Aiding him and the commission will be two groups of lawyers. One set will consist of six or eight senior attorneys.

THEY ARE being chosen geographically, as well as for their legal accomplishments and erudition. They will sift and analyze all federal agency reports — and whatever is found under the commission's own direction.

"These will be mature men," I was told, "with large experience in trials and investigation and evaluation. They cannot yet be identified. During the early stages they will be fulfilling their obligations to their own clients. They will interrupt their personal work, however, to cooperate with the commission.

"In later stages they will be at commission headquarters a good deal of the time.

"They are chosen not only geographically but for their varied experience. They have trial experience in criminal cases. They will attempt to evaluate evidence and discover additional areas of inquiry. There is great detail of information in certain areas. This always indicates to trained legal people possible additional questions and situations where doubts could arise which need to be examine

"We need to see if this evidence and these details support what has been reported, or are incorrect.

"Sometimes such evaluation leads to entirely new facets."

THERE ALSO WILL be a junior group of six or seven lawyers. They will spend full time and will devote themselves to the preliminary analyses and collating of the vast amount of information and documents already pouring in. There also will be the necessary stenographic help.

There is no timetable. President Johnson did not fix any deadline. The commission will function as long as it believes there is a single new fact to be found and an elusive nuance to be interpreted.

North's Problem, Too

By David Lawrence

Segregation Not Just Issue In South

It's so easy nowadays to get mixed up as to whether one is reading about New York City or Birmingham, Ala., in the controversy over civil rights and desegregation of public schools. In the minds of many people, this issue is supposedly confined solely to the South.

David Lawrence

An editorial in The New York Times has made it clear that the question of school integration is beginning to emerge as one of the most troublesome of the era in all parts of the country. The Times described the situation in New York as follows:

"The issue of how to end 'de facto' segregation of the city's schools has become involved in irrational arguments, intemperate statements and inexcusable demagogy. Almost all parties involved in the dispute are at fault.

"James B. Donovan, the acting president of the Board of Education, used unfortunate terminology when he said that he presides over a Board of Education, not a board of integration or transportation.

"Stanley H. Lowell, chairman of the city Commission on Human Rights, read the Board of Education a public lecture. This was not only a dubious exercise in statesmanship on the part of one city agency toward another but also included some gross misinterpretations of the School Board's position and intent. The charge that the board subscribes to the 'separate but equal' doctrine is both insulting and untrue.

"FINALLY, the Rev. Milton Galamison, as chairman of the citywide Committee for Integrated Schools, departed shockingly from his earlier, constructive course as a civil rights leader when he said that he would rather see the school system destroyed than have it fail in what he considers the necessary timetable for integration. 'Maybe it has run its course anyway, the public school system,' he said.

"Until this statement was made, the segregationists of the South alone held the dubious distinction of being ready to sacrifice the public schools to the demands of their extremism.

"Equally inexcusable is the demand that Dr. Calvin E. Gross be removed as superintendent of schools. A look at Dr. Gross's record makes it clear that implications of racism against him are nothing short of character assassination.

"It's time to stop such dangerous tactics. Mistakes have been made in the past, probably by all parties. There is nothing to be gained from magnifying them now or making them appear as acts of bad faith. The civil rights leadership and the Human Rights Commission can help the schools — and the children in them — best by working with the board, in calm intelligence and without the threat of a futile and destructive boycott."

IF THE EDITORIALS in the Southern newspapers were to be examined, it would be found that they, too, have tried to advise their readers there is no simple solution to the troublesome issue.

What has complicated it, of course, is the entry of the federal government into the process of education — something which has always been considered the function of the state governments.

Now that the federal governments is already exercising a far-reaching control over the schools in order to insure desegregation the same logic could prompt the federal authorities to invade all fields of education, including the curricula and the competence of teachers.

The whole educational system heretofore has been operated on a local basis. Federal aid to education has been designed to assist the states merely to get better physical facilities, particularly in special fields like science. Now that the federal government has undertaken through decrees of the lower courts to determine just who shall attend which schools in a given locality, on the ground that there must be no discrimination due to race or color, use of federal authority to take over the educational systems of the country is expected to follow.

NEW YORK CITY'S difficulties with the desegration problem are duplicated in many other big cities of the North. There is no line of demarcation as to where state authority ends and federal authority begins.

Pupils are being assigned to schools in many cities on the basis of residential zones. Even this method is being brushed aside in efforts to equalize the number of persons of given races who may attend certain schools.

There is plenty of talk on both sides about "extremists." The fact remains, however, that the integrationists feel federal intervention can be relied upon to insure the fulfillment of their demands. Recent statistics, moreover, show that the Negro population of the United States is growing rapidly and that a substantial number of Negroes have left the South to live in Northern cities.

It will not be long now before the question of segregation or desegregation in the schools will be agitated far more in the North than in the South. New York City's experience has something of a parallel in Philadelphia and Chicago.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We feel that we must take this opportunity to say some things which must be said now.

First, this is a plea to the adults to accept us as Oak Glen —not part Chester, part Newell and part New Cumberland. We students are getting along fine together. Contrary to popular belief, there are no sectional rivalries.

We're proud to say that we attend Oak Glen and are hoping to build it into a topnotch school. We realize this will take time and patience. One of the first and foremost steps will require the help of all those who attend the games.

You who are constantly offering criticism against our team and our coach, do you think this encourages the players? Does this help to build Oak Glen's reputation? Think about it.

Many of you are condemning Coach Starkey for some of his actions during the game. He has worked long and hard with our players and he knows their human capabilities better than anyone.

Another thing, we realize that most of you have lived in one of the three towns for many years, so we understand your showing of partiality for your hometown players. But, as we've said before, there's just one team out there and that's Oak Glen. Those guys are playing their hearts out and the coach is right in there with them. That's good enough for us!

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We were at the East Liverpool-Oak Glen game Friday night and paid $1 for reserve seats.

It was like the main street of New York, except there were people instead of cars and trucks. If we bought a usual seat, we could at least have seen the game much better. We would have liked the game if we could have seen what was in front of us.

The Potters cheering section was like lions in a zoo. When the game was interesting, someone from the Potters section would throw a paper cup and hit us. The popcorn was the only thing good. We were surprised to find out they put butter on the popcorn.

Another investigatory force will be the President's Commission on the Assassination of John F. Kennedy. It has not yet swung into action in its 12-room headquarters covering the entire fourth floor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Building at 200 Maryland Ave. NE, Washington.

When it does so, early in the year, under the direction of the Nebraska-born, 56-year-old legal scientist J. Lee Rankin, it will conduct investigations of its own on several levels. It will not have an investigation division but will draw on government agencies as it wishes.

THE COMMISSION already has established a permanent liaison with the Justice Department. This is maintained by the assistant U.S. attorney general, Howard Willens, who is second in charge of the Criminal Division of the department. He has been peeled off from "Justice" and is spending full time at the commission headquarters.

Commission members themselves will probe into the assassination instead of doing an armchair research job. They will go into the field singly and in groups and it's fully expected that the entire commission will eventually sit in Dallas. There appears to be no doubt that they will talk at great length with Ruby, the cocky killer of the alleged assassin.

That will come after the trial, it can be presumed. Some insiders expect a swift court session for Ruby. Then, Ruby will be placed under oath by the commission and will testify as a regular witness. The commission has the power to issue subpoenas.

DIGGING into Oswald's "fuzzy Marxism," (a State Department description) will hardly be difficult for either former CIA director Allen Dulles, or for the commission's chief counsel J. Lee Rankin.

The latter, while solicitor-general, argued for the United States in the Supreme Court on the Communist passport and Communist party membership cases under the Smith Act.

Back in April 1955 Rankin wrote a scholarly treatise on the question of trading in surplus agricultural commodities with Soviet bloc countries.

All sides, including the highest bar association circles, consider him one of the finest and most objective legal minds in the land.

Aiding him and the commission will be two groups of lawyers. One set will consist of six or eight senior attorneys.

THEY ARE being chosen geographically, as well as for their legal accomplishments and erudition. They will sift and analyze all federal agency reports — and whatever is found under the commission's own direction.

"These will be mature men," I was told, "with large experience in trials and investigation and evaluation. They cannot yet be identified. During the early stages they will be fulfilling their obligations to their own clients. They will interrupt their personal work, however, to cooperate with the commission.

"In later stages they will be at commission headquarters a good deal of the time.

"They are chosen not only geographically but for their varied experience. They have trial experience in criminal cases. They will attempt to evaluate evidence and discover additional areas of inquiry. There is great detail of information in certain areas. This always indicates to trained legal people possible additional questions and situations where doubts could arise which need to be examine

"We need to see if this evidence and these details support what has been reported, or are incorrect.

"Sometimes such evaluation leads to entirely new facets."

THERE ALSO WILL be a junior group of six or seven lawyers. They will spend full time and will devote themselves to the preliminary analyses and collating of the vast amount of information and documents already pouring in. There also will be the necessary stenographic help.

There is no timetable. President Johnson did not fix any deadline. The commission will function as long as it believes there is a single new fact to be found and an elusive nuance to be interpreted.

North's Problem, Too

By David Lawrence

Segregation Not Just Issue In South

It's so easy nowadays to get mixed up as to whether one is reading about New York City or Birmingham, Ala., in the controversy over civil rights and desegregation of public schools. In the minds of many people, this issue is supposedly confined solely to the South.

David Lawrence

An editorial in The New York Times has made it clear that the question of school integration is beginning to emerge as one of the most troublesome of the era in all parts of the country. The Times described the situation in New York as follows:

"The issue of how to end 'de facto' segregation of the city's schools has become involved in irrational arguments, intemperate statements and inexcusable demagogy. Almost all parties involved in the dispute are at fault.

"James B. Donovan, the acting president of the Board of Education, used unfortunate terminology when he said that he presides over a Board of Education, not a board of integration or transportation.

"Stanley H. Lowell, chairman of the city Commission on Human Rights, read the Board of Education a public lecture. This was not only a dubious exercise in statesmanship on the part of one city agency toward another but also included some gross misinterpretations of the School Board's position and intent. The charge that the board subscribes to the 'separate but equal' doctrine is both insulting and untrue.

"FINALLY, the Rev. Milton Galamison, as chairman of the citywide Committee for Integrated Schools, departed shockingly from his earlier, constructive course as a civil rights leader when he said that he would rather see the school system destroyed than have it fail in what he considers the necessary timetable for integration. 'Maybe it has run its course anyway, the public school system,' he said.

"Until this statement was made, the segregationists of the South alone held the dubious distinction of being ready to sacrifice the public schools to the demands of their extremism.

"Equally inexcusable is the demand that Dr. Calvin E. Gross be removed as superintendent of schools. A look at Dr. Gross's record makes it clear that implications of racism against him are nothing short of character assassination.

"It's time to stop such dangerous tactics. Mistakes have been made in the past, probably by all parties. There is nothing to be gained from magnifying them now or making them appear as acts of bad faith. The civil rights leadership and the Human Rights Commission can help the schools — and the children in them — best by working with the board, in calm intelligence and without the threat of a futile and destructive boycott."

IF THE EDITORIALS in the Southern newspapers were to be examined, it would be found that they, too, have tried to advise their readers there is no simple solution to the troublesome issue.

What has complicated it, of course, is the entry of the federal government into the process of education — something which has always been considered the function of the state governments.

Now that the federal governments is already exercising a far-reaching control over the schools in order to insure desegregation the same logic could prompt the federal authorities to invade all fields of education, including the curricula and the competence of teachers.

The whole educational system heretofore has been operated on a local basis. Federal aid to education has been designed to assist the states merely to get better physical facilities, particularly in special fields like science. Now that the federal government has undertaken through decrees of the lower courts to determine just who shall attend which schools in a given locality, on the ground that there must be no discrimination due to race or color, use of federal authority to take over the educational systems of the country is expected to follow.

NEW YORK CITY'S difficulties with the desegration problem are duplicated in many other big cities of the North. There is no line of demarcation as to where state authority ends and federal authority begins.

Pupils are being assigned to schools in many cities on the basis of residential zones. Even this method is being brushed aside in efforts to equalize the number of persons of given races who may attend certain schools.

There is plenty of talk on both sides about "extremists." The fact remains, however, that the integrationists feel federal intervention can be relied upon to insure the fulfillment of their demands. Recent statistics, moreover, show that the Negro population of the United States is growing rapidly and that a substantial number of Negroes have left the South to live in Northern cities.

It will not be long now before the question of segregation or desegregation in the schools will be agitated far more in the North than in the South. New York City's experience has something of a parallel in Philadelphia and Chicago.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We feel that we must take this opportunity to say some things which must be said now.

First, this is a plea to the adults to accept us as Oak Glen —not part Chester, part Newell and part New Cumberland. We students are getting along fine together. Contrary to popular belief, there are no sectional rivalries.

We're proud to say that we attend Oak Glen and are hoping to build it into a topnotch school. We realize this will take time and patience. One of the first and foremost steps will require the help of all those who attend the games.

You who are constantly offering criticism against our team and our coach, do you think this encourages the players? Does this help to build Oak Glen's reputation? Think about it.

Many of you are condemning Coach Starkey for some of his actions during the game. He has worked long and hard with our players and he knows their human capabilities better than anyone.

Another thing, we realize that most of you have lived in one of the three towns for many years, so we understand your showing of partiality for your hometown players. But, as we've said before, there's just one team out there and that's Oak Glen. Those guys are playing their hearts out and the coach is right in there with them. That's good enough for us!

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We were at the East Liverpool-Oak Glen game Friday night and paid $1 for reserve seats.

It was like the main street of New York, except there were people instead of cars and trucks. If we bought a usual seat, we could at least have seen the game much better. We would have liked the game if we could have seen what was in front of us.

The Potters cheering section was like lions in a zoo. When the game was interesting, someone from the Potters section would throw a paper cup and hit us. The popcorn was the only thing good. We were surprised to find out they put butter on the popcorn.

3 Uninjured When Train Smashes Auto

EAST PALESTINE — A city woman, her daughter and a neighborhood girl escaped serious injury when their car was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad shifter train at the State St. crossing Monday night.

Mrs. Ruth Whinnery, 44, of 512 E. Martin St., her daughter, Darlene, 15, and Cindy Martin, 14, of 509 E. Martin St. were taken to Salem City Hospital for examination after the crash, which demolished the 1958 sedan.

All were in the front seat and were shaken up, but returned home, apparently unhurt.

Police said Mrs. Whinnery told them she was driving north and looked both ways at the crossing, proceeding over it.

The train was backing east, and the caboose struck the driver's side of the car, shoving it some 50 to 60 feet before halting. The train was apparently moving slowly at the time.

The engineer on the diesel locomotive was Chester Inboden of East Palestine, police said. The crash was timed at 8:51 on the north-bound tracks of the crossing, which is in the east end of the city.

The charges were filed by Patrolman Paul Blevins, who said both violations occurred on Sept. 13. Stopped for reckless driving at 6th St. and Dresden Ave., Blevins told the court that Streets admitted he did not have his license with him.

The motorist stopped briefly and then turned north on Dresden Ave. and turned onto W. 7th St. where the officer said he lost him.

All were in the front seat and were shaken up, but returned home, apparently unhurt.

Police said Mrs. Whinnery told them she was driving north and looked both ways at the crossing, proceeding over it.

The train was backing east, and the caboose struck the driver's side of the car, shoving it some 50 to 60 feet before halting. The train was apparently moving slowly at the time.

The motorist stopped briefly and then turned north on Dresden Ave. and turned onto W. 7th St. where the officer said he lost him.

Xavier Students Won't Hear Barnett On Racial Problem

Rudy Hasl, president of the Student Council, had invited the governor during a trip to Mississippi last month, but officials of the Jesuit school said no to the idea.

The Rev. Patrick Ratterman, dean of men, said Monday he told Hasl that Barnett was not acceptable as a campus speaker because "his actions and statements indicate that he has taken a stand in regard to racial segregation with which the university cannot agree."

Hasl said Monday night his invitation had been tentative and that he considered the matter closed.

"I invited Barnett to give the students an opportunity to hear his point of view first hand, rather than from a secondary source," the student leader said. "I think it is important that we hear both sides. Even if we disagree with his position, he still has a right to say it."

The invitation was made while Hasl and nine other Xavier students were visiting Tougaloo Christian College near Jackson, Miss.

Father Ratterman said that in his capacity as moderator of the Student Council he has authority to disapprove proposed campus speakers. He said he told Hasl that Barnett was not an acceptable speaker as soon as he heard of the invitation Jan. 2.

Barnett, an outspoken segregationist, has made many speeches at several Northern colleges in recent months.

Director Bows Out

Owen Proposes Future Projects

Attending the last Council meeting before his retirement next Monday, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen made a brief farewell speech last night in which he listed seven projects that he said he hopes the new administration and Council will advance.

In a brief statement that he called "my swan song — my last appearance at this desk," Owen listed these future projects:

RESTORATION of City Hall; construction of a new maintenance and storage building for the street department; provision for more off-street parking space; a general revamping of the parking meter system.

Continuation of a low - cost street surfacing program; construction of a revetment to prevent erosion of the river banks along the River Rd., and construction of an overpass to link together the two dead-end sections of W. 9th St.

"I want to thank everyone who helped with the program of the former administration," he said. "I particularly want to thank Bert Goodballet for making it possible for me to serve the city. I promise my help in the future if I can be of any aid.

"I am proud of our record, but there still is lots to be done," Owen said. Then he listed the seven major projects.

"I WANT to pay tribute to the men of the street, incinerator, fire and police departments for a job well done," he added.

President George E. Willshaw thanked Owen for his co-operation and commented that the retiring director "has done an outstanding job."

"The new director has a very big pair of shoes to fill, but I'm sure he will be equal to the task," Willshaw added.

Councilmen Robert W. Sample Jr. and Floyd Murray joined in thanking Owen for his service to the city.

Mayor Merrill D. Hall commented that he is "looking forward to a year of progress for East Liverpool." He said he hopes the administration and Council "will have a happy and successful year together."

ROBERT E. Vodrey will assume office Monday as Hall's director, replacing Owen. Under state law, the change-over in the director's office is delayed until the second Monday of January.

Council referred to the finance committee a letter from Owen asking a $17-a-month raise for R. D. Perrin, chief City Hall custodian, and a $10 boost for Kenneth Birch, night custodian.

When raises were granted most city employes over a year ago, the amounts given the two custodians were not on a par with the other boosts, Owen said in his letter. The raises would fix Perrin's salary at $367 monthly and set Birch's at $330, he said.

Council also referred to the finance committee a letter from Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon of Municipal Court advising that the salaries of two women deputies, Mrs. Helen Steffen and Mrs. Phyllis Stewart, have been boosted to $296 monthly, in line with raises Council granted to other women clerical workers. The salary raises were fixed in journal entries signed earlier by the clerk and Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

COUNCILMAN Norman Bucher suggested that the street committee confer on a snow removal program for the city.

Bucher said he and many other motorists were inconvenienced last Thursday night when they were unable to get their cars away from parking spots in the downtown area because of deep water and slush lying along the curbs.

Murray announced the street committee will meet Saturday at 10 a. m. to make its weekly rounds with Owen, Vodrey and Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin.

Mayor Hall said this morning the snow removal program for the business district will be discussed Saturday when he and the director-designate meet with Council's streets committee and Laughlin.

Sample said many householders and business places need to be reminded of the responsibility for clearing snow and ice from their sidewalks. Several pedestrians have been hurt recently in falls on slippery sidewalks, he said.

James Coffee of Lewistown, Pa., appeared before Council to ask what action had been taken on an application filed a few weeks ago by the Television Electronics Service System of Lewistown for authority to operate a central cable TV system here.

WILLSHAW replied that it was the first meeting of the new Council and there had been no opportunity to act on the application.

Council voted to refer the application to its planning committee. Willshaw told Coffee the committee will set a date to confer with him.

Fred Kane, city electrician, asked Council in a letter to consider official establishment of a city electrical department. With Council's approval, Willshaw set a caucus session with Kane for Jan. 20 at 7 p. m. to discuss the proposal.

Council filed a letter from the County Election Board advising that $3,041 will be withheld by the county auditor's office from the next tax settlement due the city, representing the municipality's share of expenses for 1963 elections and voter registration.

Council also filed a letter from D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner, reporting that 1963 income tax receipts totaled $284,114.

Cunningham Named New Councilman

Both Cunningham and Applegate took the oath of office immediately from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff and then assumed their duties.

—:—

MRS. BETTY Berg, widow of the councilman, had been elected to fill her husband's unexpired term, but left office when it ran out last Wednesday midnight.

Two other Democrats and a Republican filed written applications for the Second Ward seat. Two other Democrats also sought the clerk's post.

Democrats who sought the Council seat were William R. Drane, 816 Bradshaw Ave., and Earl H. Spencer, 806 Sophia St. The Republican was William Y. Orr, 922 Princeton Ave., who formerly served three terms in the same post.

The clerk's post was sought by Mrs. Lillian McKeever of W. 5th St., who will retire next Monday as secretary to Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, and Frank P. Duffy of Holliday St., former councilman-at-large who ran unsuccessfully for mayor in the November general election.

MRS. SWEENEY was appointed temporary clerk as the meeting convened. Then Zollinger's letter of resignation was read into the record. Applications for the Council seat then were presented.

Smith moved to nominate Cunningham, seconded by Hancock. Hancock, seconded by Smith, moved to close the nominations. Council then approved a motion by Bucher, seconded by Davis, that the record show the election was unanimous.

Council adjourned at 8:07 while Cunningham was given the oath of office. It reconvened as he took his post.

Applications for the clerk's post then were read.

Smith nominated Applegate, seconded by Hancock. Bucher then moved to close the nominations. Hancock seconded. A motion was approved to show the vote was unanimous for Applegate. He took the oath of office at 8:17, then assumed his duties.

MRS. SWEENEY was returned as assistant clerk in the next order of business. She is clerk of the Civil Defense Council, with an office adjoining the Council caucus room.

Murray was elected president pro tem, to serve in the absence of the president. He also was elected late last year as pro tem of the former Council. Murray was elevated in November after Willshaw, former president pro tem, became president on the resignation of Charles N. Edwards.

He resides at 149 Reynolds St. He has been employed 13 years at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he is a clerk in industrial control.

He is married and the father of two sons, 6 and 7, and a daughter, 15. A member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Cunningham served in the Air Force in World War II.

APPLEGATE was defeated by Zollinger when the Democrat sought his second four - year term in the auditor's office. He resides at 1119 St. George St.

Applegate was employed at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. at the time he was elected auditor. A native of East Liverpool, he formerly worked seven years in the city engineer's office and four years with the State Highway Department.

As part of the organization procedure, Willshaw announced new standing committees for the biennium. With the chairman named first in each case, they are:

Finance; Sample, Murray and Bucher; ordinance: Bucher, Smith and Murray; claims: Hancock, Davis and Cunningham; streets: Murray, Hancock and Cunningham.

HE APPOINTED Sample and Murray as Council's representatives on the Police Pension Board and named Bucher and Davis to similar posts on the Firemen's Pension Board.

As the meeting closed, Willshaw pointed out to the rules committee that the present rules under which Council operates—and which were adopted again for the new term—date back to 1954.

Willshaw suggested the committee might wish to study the rules and propose revisions.

He cited particularly an old rule that provides Council's regular sessions will begin at 7:30 p. m. from Oct. 1 to April 1 and at 8 p. m. from April 1 to Oct. 1.

The rule has not been followed for approximately six years after a former Council voted to start all regular sessions at 8 the year round.

WHEN Council members indicated they favored reverting to the former schedule of so-called "winter" and "summer" hours, the rules committee met after the regular session and recommended a change to the former system.

That means the next meeting Jan. 20 and all other regular sessions until April 1 will begin at 7:30. Starting April 1, and continuing until Oct. 1, meetings will convene at 8.

McConville's Board Choice

probationary term two years ago under the provisions of a new state law.

The board voted to continue its meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month. It is required by law to meet at least once a month.

It adopted a temporary appropriation of $466,788 to operate the schools until permanent appropriations are approved, usually in March. Miss Liebschner explained the board is authorized to appropriate up to a quarter of the budget but cannot transact any business until appropriations are adopted.

The permanent appropriations will be approved after the County Budget Commission at Lisbon forwards a certificate of resources showing the amount of tax money the board can anticipate this year.

THE NEW board also approved the appointment of R.M. McFarland, retired Chester High School principal, to teach general business classes on a half - day schedule.

McFarland will replace Merrill D. Hall, who resigned his teaching post and as school athletic director to become mayor.

It also authorized rental of Westgate auditorium to the Lions Club on March 20-21 for its annual minstrel show. The rental fee will be $20 plus custodial fees for rehearsal on March 20 and $50 plus custodial time for the March 21 performance.

The East End All - Stars were given permission to use the East Junior High gymnasium each Monday night for basketball at a fee of $6.50 per night.

THE BOARD discussed the rental situation briefly after Heasley questioned the wisdom of charging service organizations such as Kiwanis and Lions rental fees.

"It seems stupid to me to charge these organization," Heasley said, declaring he believes the board should encourage the use of the school buildings.

In response to his question, Miss Liebschner said rental fees last year came to $2,520.

Answering a question from Woomer, Miss Liebschner said the rental fees go into one fund. The organizations also are billed for the amount of time turned in by the custodians.

Supt. Paul H. Blair explained to the new members the board last year adopted new rental fees after a survey was made of the various school facilities to determine the hourly cost of heating and electricity.

"WE FOUND IT costing so much we couldn't afford it," the superintendent said. The new policy raised some of the fees and added custodial charges to all rental fees.

He pointed out the buildings, particularly Westgate, are constantly in use. The demand is tremendous and sometimes it is hard to find suitable dates for all groups, he pointed out.

McConville told Heasley that he agreed with his complaint on charging organizations with the exception of the commercial fee.

The board took no action on an application from the City Basketball League for use of East Junior High gym for its games.

Blair said he would check on the availability of the gym after Al Dawson, league representative who attended the meeting, said the league would prefer to use the gym either on Monday or Wednesday nights.

DAWSON TOLD the board the application was made for the East End gym since the rental fee is cheaper than for Westgate where the games were played last year. The league unable to hold a playoff.

4 Women Come Out Far Best In Struggle With 2 Thieves

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four housewives have struck a blow to advance the belief that members of the fair sex can take care of themselves.

And two thieves are sporting scratches and bruises as a result.

The four women held the two at bay for more than an hour Monday, and two of the women came out far the best in a fight with the young men.

After seeing the two men take three bags of groceries from a car parked in the Brookpark-Broadview shopping center, Mrs. Janet Evanoff, 25, and her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Kardos, entered a bakery. They heard Mrs. Frances Zingalie, 30, and her mother, Mrs. Rose Tilrico, 65, shout that their groceries had just been stolen.

"Why, we just saw them take it," yelled Mrs. Avanoff, and the four women spotted the two shabbily dressed young men sitting in a car in the parking lot.

Mrs. Zingalie stood in front of the vehicle and told the men they would have to run over her to get out of the parking lot.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Kardos ran to a store, grabbed an empty grocery cart and jammed it beneath the bumper of the thieves' auto. While the other three women harassed the men, Mrs. Evanoff pulled her car in front of the parked car, blocking any possible escape route.

Mrs. Evanoff and Mrs. Zingalie then attacked the thieves. A crowd, including at least half a dozen men, gathered to watch, but no one came to their aid, the women said.

Police arrived 1½ hours after the incident began, but the thieves already had escaped on foot. Groceries, car mats and blankets — apparently stolen — were found in the abandoned car.

Police said they received calls about the incident during a change of shift and while many personnel were needed for school duty.

Miss Linda R. Reed Weds Airman 2C Ronnie Briere

The Boyce Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding Christmas evening of Miss Linda Rae Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Reed, 466 Mulberry St., and Airman 2C Ronnie Briere, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith of Boyd St.

The Rev. Ronald Rearic, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 7 o'clock before an altar decorated with ferns, palms, white poinsettias and lighted candles. A 20-minute organ recital of wedding music preceded the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length white dress styled with a round neckline and a Chantilly lace jacket with three-quarter-length sleeves. Her bouffant skirt was of nylon tulle. She wore brief white gloves.

Her theater veil was held in place by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, satin streamers and lovers knots. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

James Lee Reed, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Rick Sanford and Ed Croxell.

A reception followed in the Boyce Auditorium and the bridal table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Lighted tapers completed the setting.

Xavier Students Won't Hear Barnett On Racial Problem

Rudy Hasl, president of the Student Council, had invited the governor during a trip to Mississippi last month, but officials of the Jesuit school said no to the idea.

The Rev. Patrick Ratterman, dean of men, said Monday he told Hasl that Barnett was not acceptable as a campus speaker because "his actions and statements indicate that he has taken a stand in regard to racial segregation with which the university cannot agree."

Hasl said Monday night his invitation had been tentative and that he considered the matter closed.

"I invited Barnett to give the students an opportunity to hear his point of view first hand, rather than from a secondary source," the student leader said. "I think it is important that we hear both sides. Even if we disagree with his position, he still has a right to say it."

The invitation was made while Hasl and nine other Xavier students were visiting Tougaloo Christian College near Jackson, Miss.

Father Ratterman said that in his capacity as moderator of the Student Council he has authority to disapprove proposed campus speakers. He said he told Hasl that Barnett was not an acceptable speaker as soon as he heard of the invitation Jan. 2.

Barnett, an outspoken segregationist, has made many speeches at several Northern colleges in recent months.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Other Side Of The Coin

Not every kid in America is going around crashing parties, rumbling with the Jets, riding motor scooters into trees and flunking French.

Alan Gill

Thousands of them are fiddling with Bunsen burners, spectroscopes and radio meters and then taking their inventions, research papers and theories off with them to the celebrated Science Fairs. A few teen-agers have been put on the payroll of the armed services, while other little mad scientists spend their summer vacations at places like the Cambridge Research Center.

-:-

LATE NEXT Sunday afternoon, ABC-TV will launch an ambitious new series featuring the works and wisdom of the brainiest of these nippers. It is called "Science All-Stars."

It enamates from a New York studio that's as technically futuristic as Dr. Huer's control panel. And it comes with the blessings of the Establishment.

(Guests on the first program will be AEC Chairman Glen T. Seaborg and the fellow who first broke the sound barrier, Col. Charles Yeager; the show will open with a statement recorded many weeks ago by the late President John F. Kennedy.)

Over soup the other day, the program's host, Don Morrow, was asked about working with youngsters, especially smart youngsters.

"I'VE WORKED with them before, on 'Camouflage' and other shows," Morrow said, "and I've got two of my own, with another on the way. We get along fine. The 'Science All-Stars,' as you'd expect, aren't like other kids, though.

"Oh, they're shy. But they're so fascinated with their special areas of study that they speak very articulately and confidently about them. They talk to you as if you knew what it was all about.

"One of my jobs on camera is to pull them back from the have them put it in lay terms. With most of these kids, there's no nonsense. They're a bunch of little engineers.

"OBVIOUSLY, I've got to do some boning up before each show. The producer, Steve Carlin, is fantastically knowledgeable; and it's he who gives me the background material. All of it is far out of my own line, which until recently was acting.

"I was interested in science at age 4 but not since, though it was my father-in-law, Fred Link, who invented the walkie-talkie."

Morrow is genuinely confident in the show's success and drops words like "worthiness" and "inspiration" when he gets up momentum.

"Besides," he adds smilingly, "you can't knock kids or dogs, can you?"

Each program, he promises, will move swiftly, with no "how's-mom-how's-dad garbage." His interviews with the youngsters will be cut to the bone, because "it's the experiment that counts and we'll get three or four of 'em on per show, bing-bang."

HE MENTIONED some of the gimmicks we'll be seeing on the show: a radio transmitter made from a cookie sheet; a robot that "gives water and milk, feeds you, takes your picture and does a few other tricks"; a radio-telescope that "will light up the stage lights with energy derived from the constellation Cassiopia, 300 million light years away"; a power generator that gets its energy from fish."

"And then there's the kid from a ranch out in Wyoming who has a high-frequency beam that'd zip the head off you."

Morrow-the-Actor and Morrow-the-Former-Announcer are not too fearful of the public image the show may give him.

"This is a nice way to be typed, if I do get typed," he said. "Usually the television host gets himself thought of as an idoit.

"BESIDES, it's hard for an announcer to become an M.C. They'd rather give the job to an insurance man or a Martian. For awhile now, I've been in."

He still hopes an acting break will come along one day — a Broadway show, maybe.

"Acting is an expensive hobby. And if you put the years into it that I did, you couldn't sanely abandon the thing."

Meanwhile, it's a nice enough life. The Morrows have a 34-acre piece of property in Danbury, Conn., where their built-in-1777 farmhouse stands and the wild game roam.

In Westhampton, L. I., too, there is a thriving establishment called Wheel & Compass and Water Ski Club, Don Morrow, prop.

CLEVELAND (AP) — James V. Stanton, cleared recently by a grand jury of bribery charges was elected president of City Council Monday night, ending the five-term reign of Jack P. Russell.

Mrs. Mercedes Cotner was named Council clerk to succeed Thad Fusco, who had served more than 10 years.

Russell, a throwback to the old-time big city political bosses, and Fusco had waged a bitter battle to overthrow the decision of a Democratic Party caucus Nov. 26 which chose Stanton and Mrs. Cotner to head the 1964-65 Council.

Councilman Michael Fatica claimed last month that Stanton had offered him a bribe for his vote in the party caucus, but the Cuyahoga County grand jury found "no credible evidence" that Stanton had made a bribe offer.

Proclamation Issued On 'Dimes' Campaign

Mayor Merrill D. Hall today proclaimed January as March of Dimes month and urged residents to contribute generously.

In his first proclamation as the city's chief executive, the mayor pointed out the March of Dimes is financing research into the possible prevention of birth defects and arthritis.

Funds also are needed for continued assistance to polio patients, health scholarships and support of the new Salk Institute for Biological Studies, he said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parents Can End 'Family Warfare'

I read a good many letters describing an almost constant warfare between an adolescent girl or boy and the parents. These families strike me as very tragic. I wonder how many minutes a day the members really feel companionable and decent to one another; how often one sees the others smile in a day. Sadly, I imagine the hours and hours they all go around mad at one another, or just mad in general. In my imagination I put myself now in the parents' place, now in the child's place and suffer with all.

Dr. Garry Meyers

THE CONSTANT mutual irritation may center around some issue (and spread to others)—the youth's untidy ways with his or her room or things; failure to share in the household duties; request or demands for money; the family car; late night hours; friends the parents disapprove of; neglect of school work and so on. The irritations of parents and child may be expressed in arguments, violent words and mutual personal abuses, even in physcial blows.

When matters reach such a tragic stage, the youth feels more resolved to go on in his or her own way and grows more resentful of the parents' rebukes and exhorations.

No matter how right the parents may be in what they expect of the youth or try to require of him, they don't succeed. Instead, their wishes and efforts grow more and more hopeless.

WHAT PAIR of parents ever get anywhere in guiding a son or daughter in ways of behavior if they go around nearly always mad? Of course the youth feels just as mad in the meanwhile.

The hope for any improvement is to restore common sense and reason. But it's up to the parents. They have so much more experience. They are on strategic ground.

They will sit down together and figure out what they may justly require of the child. Perhaps they will discover it to be zero or nearly so.

Their most promising resolve will be to declare a moratorium on going around with a chip on the shoulder. If they can stick to their resolve, their graciousness and self - control may pave the way to victory. Once the youth feels this improvement in parents, he or she may change unbelievably.

A copy of the prayer I once wrote for myself as a parent may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Total Will Be 8

Ohio Slated For 2 More Educational TV Stations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two more educational television stations are expected to go on the air shortly in Ohio, bringing the total to eight.

The state has an extensive plan which calls for 10 stations with facilities for creating and transmitting programs, and at least 18 transmitting stations to repeat the signals of the 10 production centers.

Bowling Green State University expects to put the seventh of the 10 "Phase One" production-transmission stations on the air five weeks from today. It will be WBGU-TV.

Like the others, it will operate in the ulta - high frequency (UHF) range. Commercial television stations occupy all the very high frequency (VHF) channels in Ohio.

When WBGU-TV begins telecasts Feb. 10, Ohio will lead the nation in number of educational TV stations on the air with 'facilities for program creation, says E. H. (Bud) Gillis Jr., executive secretary of the Ohio Educational Television Network Commission. Florida also presently has six stations in operation.

The Educational Television Association of Metropolitan Cleveland also expects to put the eighth "Phase One" station on the air soon, Gillis says, adding: "We're hoping by late this spring."

Call letters probably will be WCLE-TV.

That will leave two production transmission stations yet to begin telecasting in 'Phase one"—channels for Akron-Kent and Dayton-Xenia.

"Phase One is designed to take advantage of stations already on the air, to serve the areas of greatest population, and to take advantage of cultural facilities," Gillis says.

The plan then is to connect the 10 "Phase One" stations by two-way microwave. A program produced by one then could be telecast at the same time, or recorded for later use, by all or some of the other nine stations.

This microwave interconnection also would extend to transmitting stations at Coshocton, Lima, Mansfield, Steubenville, Youngstown, Ashtabula, Bryan, Hillsboro, Portsmouth, Woodsfield, Sandusky, Chillicothe, Ansonia, Springfield, Zanesville, Bellefontaine, Cambridge, Marietta and possibly elsewhere.

The six "Phase One" stations telecasting at the moment are Greater Cincinnati Television Educational Foundation's WCET -TV, Greater Toledo ETC Foundation's WGTE-TV, Ohio University's WOUB-TV and Newark Board of Education's WGSF-TV.

Besides bringing the best teachers and visual aids for learning to the classroom and for adult continuing education, those connected with educational television call it "an electronic library spreading knowledge and culture."

Lisbon Man Escapes Injury In Fatal Crash

A 31-year-old Lisbon man escaped injury Monday in a two-truck collision on the Ohio Turnpike near Fremont in which Norman Townsend, 38, of Scranton, Pa., was killed.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Townsend was hurled from the cab and crushed under a trailer wheel when his truck hit the rear of the second truck 15 miles west of Fremont.

The first state in the U. S. to adopt the gas chamber as a means of capital punishment was Nevada.

Director Bows Out

Owen Proposes Future Projects

Attending the last Council meeting before his retirement next Monday, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen made a brief farewell speech last night in which he listed seven projects that he said he hopes the new administration and Council will advance.

In a brief statement that he called "my swan song — my last appearance at this desk," Owen listed these future projects:

RESTORATION of City Hall; construction of a new maintenance and storage building for the street department; provision for more off-street parking space; a general revamping of the parking meter system.

Continuation of a low - cost street surfacing program; construction of a revetment to prevent erosion of the river banks along the River Rd., and construction of an overpass to link together the two dead-end sections of W. 9th St.

"I want to thank everyone who helped with the program of the former administration," he said. "I particularly want to thank Bert Goodballet for making it possible for me to serve the city. I promise my help in the future if I can be of any aid.

"I am proud of our record, but there still is lots to be done," Owen said. Then he listed the seven major projects.

"I WANT to pay tribute to the men of the street, incinerator, fire and police departments for a job well done," he added.

President George E. Willshaw thanked Owen for his co-operation and commented that the retiring director "has done an outstanding job."

"The new director has a very big pair of shoes to fill, but I'm sure he will be equal to the task," Willshaw added.

Councilmen Robert W. Sample Jr. and Floyd Murray joined in thanking Owen for his service to the city.

Mayor Merrill D. Hall commented that he is "looking forward to a year of progress for East Liverpool." He said he hopes the administration and Council "will have a happy and successful year together."

ROBERT E. Vodrey will assume office Monday as Hall's director, replacing Owen. Under state law, the change-over in the director's office is delayed until the second Monday of January.

Council referred to the finance committee a letter from Owen asking a $17-a-month raise for R. D. Perrin, chief City Hall custodian, and a $10 boost for Kenneth Birch, night custodian.

When raises were granted most city employes over a year ago, the amounts given the two custodians were not on a par with the other boosts, Owen said in his letter. The raises would fix Perrin's salary at $367 monthly and set Birch's at $330, he said.

Council also referred to the finance committee a letter from Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon of Municipal Court advising that the salaries of two women deputies, Mrs. Helen Steffen and Mrs. Phyllis Stewart, have been boosted to $296 monthly, in line with raises Council granted to other women clerical workers. The salary raises were fixed in journal entries signed earlier by the clerk and Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

COUNCILMAN Norman Bucher suggested that the street committee confer on a snow removal program for the city.

Bucher said he and many other motorists were inconvenienced last Thursday night when they were unable to get their cars away from parking spots in the downtown area because of deep water and slush lying along the curbs.

Murray announced the street committee will meet Saturday at 10 a. m. to make its weekly rounds with Owen, Vodrey and Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin.

Mayor Hall said this morning the snow removal program for the business district will be discussed Saturday when he and the director-designate meet with Council's streets committee and Laughlin.

Sample said many householders and business places need to be reminded of the responsibility for clearing snow and ice from their sidewalks. Several pedestrians have been hurt recently in falls on slippery sidewalks, he said.

James Coffee of Lewistown, Pa., appeared before Council to ask what action had been taken on an application filed a few weeks ago by the Television Electronics Service System of Lewistown for authority to operate a central cable TV system here.

WILLSHAW replied that it was the first meeting of the new Council and there had been no opportunity to act on the application.

Council voted to refer the application to its planning committee. Willshaw told Coffee the committee will set a date to confer with him.

Fred Kane, city electrician, asked Council in a letter to consider official establishment of a city electrical department. With Council's approval, Willshaw set a caucus session with Kane for Jan. 20 at 7 p. m. to discuss the proposal.

Council filed a letter from the County Election Board advising that $3,041 will be withheld by the county auditor's office from the next tax settlement due the city, representing the municipality's share of expenses for 1963 elections and voter registration.

Council also filed a letter from D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner, reporting that 1963 income tax receipts totaled $284,114.

Cunningham Named New Councilman

Both Cunningham and Applegate took the oath of office immediately from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff and then assumed their duties.

—:—

MRS. BETTY Berg, widow of the councilman, had been elected to fill her husband's unexpired term, but left office when it ran out last Wednesday midnight.

Two other Democrats and a Republican filed written applications for the Second Ward seat. Two other Democrats also sought the clerk's post.

Democrats who sought the Council seat were William R. Drane, 816 Bradshaw Ave., and Earl H. Spencer, 806 Sophia St. The Republican was William Y. Orr, 922 Princeton Ave., who formerly served three terms in the same post.

The clerk's post was sought by Mrs. Lillian McKeever of W. 5th St., who will retire next Monday as secretary to Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, and Frank P. Duffy of Holliday St., former councilman-at-large who ran unsuccessfully for mayor in the November general election.

MRS. SWEENEY was appointed temporary clerk as the meeting convened. Then Zollinger's letter of resignation was read into the record. Applications for the Council seat then were presented.

Smith moved to nominate Cunningham, seconded by Hancock. Hancock, seconded by Smith, moved to close the nominations. Council then approved a motion by Bucher, seconded by Davis, that the record show the election was unanimous.

Council adjourned at 8:07 while Cunningham was given the oath of office. It reconvened as he took his post.

Applications for the clerk's post then were read.

Smith nominated Applegate, seconded by Hancock. Bucher then moved to close the nominations. Hancock seconded. A motion was approved to show the vote was unanimous for Applegate. He took the oath of office at 8:17, then assumed his duties.

MRS. SWEENEY was returned as assistant clerk in the next order of business. She is clerk of the Civil Defense Council, with an office adjoining the Council caucus room.

Murray was elected president pro tem, to serve in the absence of the president. He also was elected late last year as pro tem of the former Council. Murray was elevated in November after Willshaw, former president pro tem, became president on the resignation of Charles N. Edwards.

He resides at 149 Reynolds St. He has been employed 13 years at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he is a clerk in industrial control.

He is married and the father of two sons, 6 and 7, and a daughter, 15. A member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Cunningham served in the Air Force in World War II.

APPLEGATE was defeated by Zollinger when the Democrat sought his second four - year term in the auditor's office. He resides at 1119 St. George St.

Applegate was employed at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. at the time he was elected auditor. A native of East Liverpool, he formerly worked seven years in the city engineer's office and four years with the State Highway Department.

As part of the organization procedure, Willshaw announced new standing committees for the biennium. With the chairman named first in each case, they are:

Finance; Sample, Murray and Bucher; ordinance: Bucher, Smith and Murray; claims: Hancock, Davis and Cunningham; streets: Murray, Hancock and Cunningham.

HE APPOINTED Sample and Murray as Council's representatives on the Police Pension Board and named Bucher and Davis to similar posts on the Firemen's Pension Board.

As the meeting closed, Willshaw pointed out to the rules committee that the present rules under which Council operates—and which were adopted again for the new term—date back to 1954.

Willshaw suggested the committee might wish to study the rules and propose revisions.

He cited particularly an old rule that provides Council's regular sessions will begin at 7:30 p. m. from Oct. 1 to April 1 and at 8 p. m. from April 1 to Oct. 1.

The rule has not been followed for approximately six years after a former Council voted to start all regular sessions at 8 the year round.

WHEN Council members indicated they favored reverting to the former schedule of so-called "winter" and "summer" hours, the rules committee met after the regular session and recommended a change to the former system.

That means the next meeting Jan. 20 and all other regular sessions until April 1 will begin at 7:30. Starting April 1, and continuing until Oct. 1, meetings will convene at 8.

Lisbon Board To Act On Fund Allocations

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education will act on temporary appropriations when it meets tonight at 7:30, according to Supt. Oliver Payne.

The board will also consider employment of a secretary and custodian for Lincoln School and a request for purchase of a supplement to Drury's Ohio School Guide.

McConville's Board Choice

probationary term two years ago under the provisions of a new state law.

The board voted to continue its meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month. It is required by law to meet at least once a month.

It adopted a temporary appropriation of $466,788 to operate the schools until permanent appropriations are approved, usually in March. Miss Liebschner explained the board is authorized to appropriate up to a quarter of the budget but cannot transact any business until appropriations are adopted.

The permanent appropriations will be approved after the County Budget Commission at Lisbon forwards a certificate of resources showing the amount of tax money the board can anticipate this year.

THE NEW board also approved the appointment of R.M. McFarland, retired Chester High School principal, to teach general business classes on a half - day schedule.

McFarland will replace Merrill D. Hall, who resigned his teaching post and as school athletic director to become mayor.

It also authorized rental of Westgate auditorium to the Lions Club on March 20-21 for its annual minstrel show. The rental fee will be $20 plus custodial fees for rehearsal on March 20 and $50 plus custodial time for the March 21 performance.

The East End All - Stars were given permission to use the East Junior High gymnasium each Monday night for basketball at a fee of $6.50 per night.

THE BOARD discussed the rental situation briefly after Heasley questioned the wisdom of charging service organizations such as Kiwanis and Lions rental fees.

"It seems stupid to me to charge these organization," Heasley said, declaring he believes the board should encourage the use of the school buildings.

In response to his question, Miss Liebschner said rental fees last year came to $2,520.

Answering a question from Woomer, Miss Liebschner said the rental fees go into one fund. The organizations also are billed for the amount of time turned in by the custodians.

Supt. Paul H. Blair explained to the new members the board last year adopted new rental fees after a survey was made of the various school facilities to determine the hourly cost of heating and electricity.

"WE FOUND IT costing so much we couldn't afford it," the superintendent said. The new policy raised some of the fees and added custodial charges to all rental fees.

He pointed out the buildings, particularly Westgate, are constantly in use. The demand is tremendous and sometimes it is hard to find suitable dates for all groups, he pointed out.

McConville told Heasley that he agreed with his complaint on charging organizations with the exception of the commercial fee.

The board took no action on an application from the City Basketball League for use of East Junior High gym for its games.

Blair said he would check on the availability of the gym after Al Dawson, league representative who attended the meeting, said the league would prefer to use the gym either on Monday or Wednesday nights.

DAWSON TOLD the board the application was made for the East End gym since the rental fee is cheaper than for Westgate where the games were played last year. The league unable to hold a playoff.

4 Women Come Out Far Best In Struggle With 2 Thieves

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four housewives have struck a blow to advance the belief that members of the fair sex can take care of themselves.

And two thieves are sporting scratches and bruises as a result.

The four women held the two at bay for more than an hour Monday, and two of the women came out far the best in a fight with the young men.

After seeing the two men take three bags of groceries from a car parked in the Brookpark-Broadview shopping center, Mrs. Janet Evanoff, 25, and her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Kardos, entered a bakery. They heard Mrs. Frances Zingalie, 30, and her mother, Mrs. Rose Tilrico, 65, shout that their groceries had just been stolen.

"Why, we just saw them take it," yelled Mrs. Avanoff, and the four women spotted the two shabbily dressed young men sitting in a car in the parking lot.

Mrs. Zingalie stood in front of the vehicle and told the men they would have to run over her to get out of the parking lot.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Kardos ran to a store, grabbed an empty grocery cart and jammed it beneath the bumper of the thieves' auto. While the other three women harassed the men, Mrs. Evanoff pulled her car in front of the parked car, blocking any possible escape route.

Mrs. Evanoff and Mrs. Zingalie then attacked the thieves. A crowd, including at least half a dozen men, gathered to watch, but no one came to their aid, the women said.

Police arrived 1½ hours after the incident began, but the thieves already had escaped on foot. Groceries, car mats and blankets — apparently stolen — were found in the abandoned car.

Police said they received calls about the incident during a change of shift and while many personnel were needed for school duty.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR GALS: Today let's talk about linens and replacing them.

Watch for your January white sales in this newspaper. It is a good way to buy linens. (One does not usually go out and replace all the linens in one's closet at the same time,)

It's recommended that once a year, a homemaker purchase at least one bed sheet (preferably two) for each bed in her home, two bath towels, two hand towels, and four wash cloths for each member of her family. This way all the linens do not wear out at the same time.

If this procedure is used, you will find that your budget will never really have a "hole" in it due to replacement of linens.

Bed sheets come in many types of cloth today. Naturally, the "lons" (nylon, dacron, etc.) and synthetic types are well loved.

INSTEAD OF BEING able to put only three regular sheets in the washing machine—with the "lons" you can wash more sheets per load, they take less soap, they dry faster, usually require no ironing and are worth every penny of any woman's budget.

However, there are percale sheets and pillowcases, too. These are usually more expensive than muslin. But . . . oh they are so nice to sleep on. They weigh less than muslin. If you send your sheets to the laundry and have them "done" by the pound . . . This is something else to think about. Money and up-keep . . . It's cheaper.

There is a difference, too, in percale and combed cotton percale. When the thread is spun in the mills (I went through one of the biggest mills recently and spent the entire day. Saw the bales of cotton come in and watched it until the fabric was made!) They "comb" it. This separates the longest fibers.

The long fibers are then made into "combed" cotton percale. The rest is put into "percale". Yes, the combed percale is best, so the mills told me and I believe it.

Muslin—just because it says muslin—does not mean that it is the best or the cheapest in the long run.

A good muslin sheet is excellent. A cheap muslin sheet is usually filled with sizing (starch) and has many less threads per square inch.

When you see an ad in your paper that says "Sheets-180-or 190-or 210" - this means that that particular sheet has at least 180 or 190 or 210 threads per square inch. If the ad has no number on it, rest assured that it does not have 210 threads per square inch!

When manufacturers make the cheaper sheets (and believe it, ladies . . . they run less threads per square inch) —they usually add sizing, (commonly called starch in our language).

You usually can test for "sizing" by picking up the edge of the sheet and rubbing it briskly between your fingers. If a powdery substance appears on your fingers or on the fabric of the cloth, you know it's loaded with sizing!

ONCE THESE sheets are washed and the sizing is removed the sheets shrinks, it will look thinner than it did when you bought it and will not last as long.

Now when you get down to someting that says "134 threads per square inch" . . . you are usually in the above category. Learn to watch for the thread count when buying linens just as you count your pennies when you get your change. Pennies and threads make dollars and longer wear.

Before making your final purchase . . . look to see if the sheet has any guarantee for shrinkage. Usually it will say "guaranteed not to shrink more than 1 per cent."

Watch your white sales and replace your worn linens. Any way we can save . . . that's the object when it comes to stretching our budget.

And remember, linens make lovely gifts for wedding, birthday and shower gifts. So . . . watch your sales and stock up.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an idea for those plastic lemon and lime containers (especially the jumbo size), which you find at your grocery store. After using the juice, I take a short knife and pry the end off where you pierce the hole.

I rinse the container and fill it with water. I use one for watering small house plants, such as African violets.

These containers also make ideal squirt guns for the youngsters to play with!

For outside barbecuing you just can't beat it to keep down the blaze!

These little gadgets can even be used at the ironing board for quick sprinkling. When you are through ironing just screw the top back on and you are ready for next time.

Mrs. H. B. Page.

First Accurate Count Of Ohio Auctioneers Being Compiled

By AL GOLDBERG
Associted Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in history, the State Commerce Department is compiling an accurate count of how many auctioneers are operating in Ohio.

A new law that went into effect Oct. 10 requiring that all auctioneers be licensed by the state at $25 a year is the means to the count.

J. Gordon Peltier, commerce director, said that 1,059 have been licensed so far. He estimated that there are about 250 more auctioneers still to register.

Prior to adoption of the auction law, registration was handled by individual counties from which no state count was made.

The law provides that anyone who was licensed in any Ohio county for one year prior to Jan. 1, 1964, can be licensed by the state without passing an examination on auctioneering rules and regulations, a part of the new law.

If the person has not held an Ohio license previously he must pass the test, then serve one year as an apprentice auctioneer—employed by a licensed auctioneer and under his supervision.

This provision in the statute has caused a request for a legal opinion from Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe.

"Some auctioneers who have worked warehouse auctions (mostly for tobacco) for years and years in other states must serve as apprentices for a year when they come into Ohio under our law," Peltier said.

He added that the opinion is to determine if they cannot receive full licenses in their first year.

Peltier said that the licensing law, rules and regulations should bring about closer supervision of auctioneering in the state which, he said, was loosely enforced when controlled by individual counties.

Irish Hearts Are Healthier

Coronary heart disease has reached epidemic proportions in America. Could lack of exercise be a major contributing cause?

Ida Jean Kain

Dr. Martin F. Trulson of the Department of Nutrition, Harvard University School of Public Health, in a talk before the American Dietetic Association, reported a revealing study, a joint project of Dublin and Harvard Universities.

An excellent way to study the effects of our diet and exercise habits is to compare blood brothers or people in their native environment with members of the same families who live in our country. To do this, the Irish - born now living in the Boston area were paired off with blood brothers still living in Ireland.

THE IRISH- BORN American male must be between the ages of 30 and 65, have lived 10 or more years in the Boston area and have a brother living in Ireland. Brothers within 10 years of age are compared. The following differences were noted in the progress report of this three-year study.

Diet differences: The men in Ireland consume more calories and have a higher per cent of animal fat in the diet. The percentage of calories from animal protein is significantly lower.

In Ireland the men use more butter, fat pork, potatoes and bread than do the American brothers. Milk, eggs and sugar are about the same. The American brothers eat more beef, maragine and oil, fruits and vegetables than do the brothers in Ireland.

Weights, blood pressure and cholesterol differences: The Irish-born American is significantly heavier and fatter than his Irish brother. There is a trend toward more hypertension in the Boston Irish, and serum cholesterol was found to be significantly higher in the Boston group.

ACTIVITY: It has been found, as expected, that the men in Ireland are far more physically active than their Boston brothers. In Ireland many are farmers. Bicycling and walking are the common methods of travel. In Boston the men operate their own cars or belong to a car pool and have less chance to exercise.

Conclusions: Exercise is the vital factor. Although the Irishmen consumed an average of 600 calories a day more than their Boston brothers, and 10 per cent more animal fat, the Irishmen weighed 8 per cent less than their American brothers. Investigators concluded that exercise may be of significance in limiting the incidence of coronary heart disease. Exercise may be even more important when a diet high in animal fat is consumed.

First Lady Plans Speech Saturday In Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flies Saturday to the hard coal country of Pennsylvania to give a speech and to see how Uncle Sam is helping miners and towns struck by unemployment.

The First Lady delivers her brief address at the dedication of a new research center at Wilkes College, Wilkes - Barre, built with the aid of federal funds.

The research center, operated on a grant from the Ford Foundation, determines a community's training needs to attract new industries to the pinched anthracite area and thus provide new jobs.

Mrs. Johnson made a similar excursion into depressed areas of West Virginia last spring when her husband was vice president to call attention to the work of the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Mrs. Johnson will be accompanied on her one-day trip to the Wilkes-Barre area by ARA Administrator William L. Batt Jr. and will look over a number of projects where coal miners are being retrained for new trades.

To Discuss Road

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Strongsville motel operators will confer with members of the "task force" that seeks completion of Interstate 71 construction in a meeting Thursday in Berea. The discussion will center around a proposed interchange between the freeway and the Ohio Turnpike.

Voting Officials Seen With More Responsibilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says the responsibilities of election officials will be greater than ever in 1964.

In an address to the 15th annual convention of the Ohio Association of Election Officials Monday night, Brown said this year's presidential election will bring a great number of votes and great activity for his office and the state's boards of election.

Brown also said election officials had a part in the stabilizing period which followed the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The smoothness with which the change in presidency took place, he said, would have been impossible in any nation except one whose representative institutions are as deeply rooted as the United States'.

Otterbein Student Cited For Extortion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An 18 - year - old Otterbein College student from Pittsburgh has been arrested by the FBI and jailed here on a warrant charging violation of federal extortion laws.

Howard S. Lewinter, a freshman, was charged with sending a female student at the college a letter containing obscene language and threats of bodily harm. Lewinter was placed in Franklin County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

New Youngstown Mayor Sets Plan To Fight Vice

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Anthony B. Flask, the new mayor of Youngstown, says war against all forms of vice is high in his administration's plans for the city.

He told his Intelligence and Security Squad Monday that he is concerned with the squad's work "because my administration is at stake."

Meanwhile, seven witnesses appeared before the Mahoning County grand jury as it resumed its racket probe and 48 more were subpoenaed to appear.

Officials Concerned Over Deaths Of Fish

NEW RICHMOND, Ohio (AP) — Conservation officials from two states are concerned about the mass deaths of fish in the Ohio River.

Acting Mayor Paul Strittmatter said hundreds of dead fish have been counted along the Ohio's banks. He said the dead fish had a red fungus around heir gills. Dead ducks and mussels also have been found.

Ohio and Kentucky conservation officials and the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission are investigating the deaths.

Harry Kramer, U.S. Public Health Service scientist at the Robert A. Taft Sanitary Engineering Center in Cincinnati, said he would make tests on the dead fish.

Out Of The Air

Other Side Of The Coin

Not every kid in America is going around crashing parties, rumbling with the Jets, riding motor scooters into trees and flunking French.

Alan Gill

Thousands of them are fiddling with Bunsen burners, spectroscopes and radio meters and then taking their inventions, research papers and theories off with them to the celebrated Science Fairs. A few teen-agers have been put on the payroll of the armed services, while other little mad scientists spend their summer vacations at places like the Cambridge Research Center.

-:-

LATE NEXT Sunday afternoon, ABC-TV will launch an ambitious new series featuring the works and wisdom of the brainiest of these nippers. It is called "Science All-Stars."

It enamates from a New York studio that's as technically futuristic as Dr. Huer's control panel. And it comes with the blessings of the Establishment.

(Guests on the first program will be AEC Chairman Glen T. Seaborg and the fellow who first broke the sound barrier, Col. Charles Yeager; the show will open with a statement recorded many weeks ago by the late President John F. Kennedy.)

Over soup the other day, the program's host, Don Morrow, was asked about working with youngsters, especially smart youngsters.

"I'VE WORKED with them before, on 'Camouflage' and other shows," Morrow said, "and I've got two of my own, with another on the way. We get along fine. The 'Science All-Stars,' as you'd expect, aren't like other kids, though.

"Oh, they're shy. But they're so fascinated with their special areas of study that they speak very articulately and confidently about them. They talk to you as if you knew what it was all about.

"One of my jobs on camera is to pull them back from the have them put it in lay terms. With most of these kids, there's no nonsense. They're a bunch of little engineers.

"OBVIOUSLY, I've got to do some boning up before each show. The producer, Steve Carlin, is fantastically knowledgeable; and it's he who gives me the background material. All of it is far out of my own line, which until recently was acting.

"I was interested in science at age 4 but not since, though it was my father-in-law, Fred Link, who invented the walkie-talkie."

Morrow is genuinely confident in the show's success and drops words like "worthiness" and "inspiration" when he gets up momentum.

"Besides," he adds smilingly, "you can't knock kids or dogs, can you?"

Each program, he promises, will move swiftly, with no "how's-mom-how's-dad garbage." His interviews with the youngsters will be cut to the bone, because "it's the experiment that counts and we'll get three or four of 'em on per show, bing-bang."

HE MENTIONED some of the gimmicks we'll be seeing on the show: a radio transmitter made from a cookie sheet; a robot that "gives water and milk, feeds you, takes your picture and does a few other tricks"; a radio-telescope that "will light up the stage lights with energy derived from the constellation Cassiopia, 300 million light years away"; a power generator that gets its energy from fish."

"And then there's the kid from a ranch out in Wyoming who has a high-frequency beam that'd zip the head off you."

Morrow-the-Actor and Morrow-the-Former-Announcer are not too fearful of the public image the show may give him.

"This is a nice way to be typed, if I do get typed," he said. "Usually the television host gets himself thought of as an idoit.

"BESIDES, it's hard for an announcer to become an M.C. They'd rather give the job to an insurance man or a Martian. For awhile now, I've been in."

He still hopes an acting break will come along one day — a Broadway show, maybe.

"Acting is an expensive hobby. And if you put the years into it that I did, you couldn't sanely abandon the thing."

Meanwhile, it's a nice enough life. The Morrows have a 34-acre piece of property in Danbury, Conn., where their built-in-1777 farmhouse stands and the wild game roam.

In Westhampton, L. I., too, there is a thriving establishment called Wheel & Compass and Water Ski Club, Don Morrow, prop.

CLEVELAND (AP) — James V. Stanton, cleared recently by a grand jury of bribery charges was elected president of City Council Monday night, ending the five-term reign of Jack P. Russell.

Mrs. Mercedes Cotner was named Council clerk to succeed Thad Fusco, who had served more than 10 years.

Russell, a throwback to the old-time big city political bosses, and Fusco had waged a bitter battle to overthrow the decision of a Democratic Party caucus Nov. 26 which chose Stanton and Mrs. Cotner to head the 1964-65 Council.

Councilman Michael Fatica claimed last month that Stanton had offered him a bribe for his vote in the party caucus, but the Cuyahoga County grand jury found "no credible evidence" that Stanton had made a bribe offer.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parents Can End 'Family Warfare'

I read a good many letters describing an almost constant warfare between an adolescent girl or boy and the parents. These families strike me as very tragic. I wonder how many minutes a day the members really feel companionable and decent to one another; how often one sees the others smile in a day. Sadly, I imagine the hours and hours they all go around mad at one another, or just mad in general. In my imagination I put myself now in the parents' place, now in the child's place and suffer with all.

THE CONSTANT mutual irritation may center around some issue (and spread to others)—the youth's untidy ways with his or her room or things; failure to share in the household duties; request or demands for money; the family car; late night hours; friends the parents disapprove of; neglect of school work and so on. The irritations of parents and child may be expressed in arguments, violent words and mutual personal abuses, even in physcial blows.

When matters reach such a tragic stage, the youth feels more resolved to go on in his or her own way and grows more resentful of the parents' rebukes and exhorations.

No matter how right the parents may be in what they expect of the youth or try to require of him, they don't succeed. Instead, their wishes and efforts grow more and more hopeless.

WHAT PAIR of parents ever get anywhere in guiding a son or daughter in ways of behavior if they go around nearly always mad? Of course the youth feels just as mad in the meanwhile.

The hope for any improvement is to restore common sense and reason. But it's up to the parents. They have so much more experience. They are on strategic ground.

They will sit down together and figure out what they may justly require of the child. Perhaps they will discover it to be zero or nearly so.

Their most promising resolve will be to declare a moratorium on going around with a chip on the shoulder. If they can stick to their resolve, their graciousness and self - control may pave the way to victory. Once the youth feels this improvement in parents, he or she may change unbelievably.

A copy of the prayer I once wrote for myself as a parent may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Total Will Be 8

Ohio Slated For 2 More Educational TV Stations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two more educational television stations are expected to go on the air shortly in Ohio, bringing the total to eight.

The state has an extensive plan which calls for 10 stations with facilities for creating and transmitting programs, and at least 18 transmitting stations to repeat the signals of the 10 production centers.

Bowling Green State University expects to put the seventh of the 10 "Phase One" production-transmission stations on the air five weeks from today. It will be WBGU-TV.

Like the others, it will operate in the ulta - high frequency (UHF) range. Commercial television stations occupy all the very high frequency (VHF) channels in Ohio.

When WBGU-TV begins telecasts Feb. 10, Ohio will lead the nation in number of educational TV stations on the air with facilities for program creation, says E. H. (Bud) Gillis Jr., executive secretary of the Ohio Educational Television Network Commission. Florida also presently has six stations in operation.

The Educational Television Association of Metropolitan Cleveland also expects to put the eighth "Phase One" station on the air soon, Gillis says, adding: "We're hoping by late this spring."

Call letters probably will be WCLE-TV.

That will leave two production transmission stations yet to begin telecasting in 'Phase one" —channels for Akron-Kent and Dayton-Xenia.

"Phase One is designed to take advantage of stations already on the air, to serve the areas of greatest population, and to take advantage of cultural facilities," Gillis says.

The plan then is to connect the 10 "Phase One" stations by two-way microwave. A program produced by one then could be telecast at the same time, or recorded for later use, by all or some of the other nine stations.

This microwave interconnection also would extend to transmitting stations at Coshocton, Lima, Mansfield, Steubenville, Youngstown, Ashtabula, Bryan, Hillsboro, Portsmouth, Woodsfield, Sandusky, Chillicothe, Ansonia, Springfield, Zanesville, Bellefontaine, Cambridge, Marietta and possibly elsewhere.

The six "Phase One" stations telecasting at the moment are Greater Cincinnati Television Educational Foundation's WCET -TV, Greater Toledo ETC Foundation's WGTE-TV, Ohio University's WOUB-TV and Newark Board of Education's WGSF-TV.

Besides bringing the best teachers and visual aids for learning to the classroom and for adult continuing education, those connected with educational television call it "an electronic library spreading knowledge and culture."

They were former Commerce Commissioner Hulett C. Smith of Beckley, House of Delegates Speaker Julius W. Singleton Jr. of Morgantown and Elkins attorney Bonn Brown.

The missing candidate was Harold G. Cutright, a political novice from Upshur County.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR GALS: Today let's talk about linens and replacing them.

Watch for your January white sales in this newspaper. It is a good way to buy linens. (One does not usually go out and replace all the linens in one's closet at the same time.)

It's recommended that once a year, a homemaker purchase at least one bed sheet (preferably two) for each bed in her home, two bath towels, two hand towels, and four wash cloths for each member of her family. This way all the linens do not wear out at the same time.

If this procedure is used, you will find that your budget will never really have a "hole" in it due to replacement of linens.

Bed sheets come in many types of cloth today. Naturally, the "lons" (nylon, dacron, etc.) and synthetic types are well loved.

INSTEAD OF BEING able to put only three regular sheets in the washing machine—with the "lons" you can wash more sheets per load, they take less soap, they dry faster, usually require no ironing and are worth every penny of any woman's budget.

However, there are percale sheets and pillowcases, too. These are usually more expensive than muslin. But . . . oh they are so nice to sleep on. They weigh less than muslin. If you send your sheets to the laundry and have them "done" by the pound . . . This is something else to think about. Money and up-keep . . . It's cheaper.

There is a difference, too, in percale and combed cotton percale. When the thread is spun in the mills (I went through one of the biggest mills recently and spent the entire day. Saw the bales of cotton come in and watched it until the fabric was made!) They "comb" it. This separates the longest fibers.

The long fibers are then made into "combed" cotton percale. The rest is put into "percale". Yes, the combed percale is best, so the mills told me and I believe it.

Muslin—just because it says muslin—does not mean that it is the best or the cheapest in the long run.

A good muslin sheet is excellent. A cheap muslin sheet is usually filled with sizing (starch) and has many less threads per square inch.

When you see an ad in your paper that says "Sheets-180-or 190-or 210" - this means that that particular sheet has at least 180 or 190 or 210 threads per square inch. If the ad has no number on it, rest assured that it does not have 210 threads per square inch!

When manufacturers make the cheaper sheets (and believe it, ladies . . . they run less threads per square inch) —they usually add sizing, (commonly called starch in our language).

You usually can test for "sizing" by picking up the edge of the sheet and rubbing it briskly between your fingers. If a powdery substance appears on your fingers or on the fabric of the cloth, you know it's loaded with sizing!

ONCE THESE sheets are washed and the sizing is removed the sheets shrinks, it will look thinner than it did when you bought it and will not last as long.

Now when you get down to someting that says "134 threads per square inch" . . . you are usually in the above category. Learn to watch for the thread count when buying linens just as you count your pennies when you get your change. Pennies and threads make dollars and longer wear.

Before making your final purchase . . . look to see if the sheet has any guarantee for shrinkage. Usually it will say "guaranteed not to shrink more than 1 per cent."

Watch your white sales and replace your worn linens. Any way we can save . . . that's the object when it comes to stretching our budget.

And remember, linens make lovely gifts for wedding, birthday and shower gifts. So . . . watch your sales and stock up.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an idea for those plastic lemon and lime containers (especially the jumbo size), which you find at your grocery store. After using the juice, I take a short knife and pry the end off where you pierce the hole.

I rinse the container and fill it with water. I use one for watering small house plants, such as African violets.

These containers also make ideal squirt guns for the youngsters to play with!

For outside barbecuing you just can't beat it to keep down the blaze!

These little gadgets can even be used at the ironing board for quick sprinkling. When you are through ironing just screw the top back on and you are ready for next time.

Mrs. H. B. Page.

First Accurate Count Of Ohio Auctioneers Being Compiled

By AL GOLDBERG
Associted Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in history, the State Commerce Department is compiling an accurate count of how many auctioneers are operating in Ohio.

A new law that went into effect Oct. 10 requiring that all auctioneers be licensed by the state at $25 a year is the means to the count.

J. Gordon Peltier, commerce director, said that 1,059 have been licensed so far. He estimated that there are about 250 more auctioneers still to register.

Prior to adoption of the auction law, registration was handled by individual counties from which no state count was made.

The law provides that anyone who was licensed in any Ohio county for one year prior to Jan. 1, 1964, can be licensed by the state without passing an examination on auctioneering rules and regulations, a part of the new law.

If the person has not held an Ohio license previously he must pass the test, then serve one year as an apprentice auctioneer—employed by a licensed auctioneer and under his supervision.

This provision in the statute has caused a request for a legal opinion from Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe.

"Some auctioneers who have worked warehouse auctions (mostly for tobacco) for years and years in other states must serve as apprentices for a year when they come into Ohio under our law," Peltier said.

He added that the opinion is to determine if they cannot receive full licenses in their first year.

Peltier said that the licensing law, rules and regulations should bring about closer supervision of auctioneering in the state which, he said, was loosely enforced when controlled by individual counties.

Hearings Resumed On Gas Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Public Utilities Commission Co.'s $35 million rate increase request, which involved 62 days of testimony in the past year, resumed today.

Carl R. Johnson, commission chairman, said the three-member body will reach a decision shortly after hearings end. But he admitted he sees no early end to testimony.

Irish Hearts Are Healthier

Coronary heart disease has reached epidemic proportions in America. Could lack of exercise be a major contributing cause?

Ida Jean Kain

Dr. Martin F. Trulson of the Department of Nutrition, Harvard University School of Public Health, in a talk before the American Dietetic Association, reported a revealing study, a joint project of Dublin and Harvard Universities.

An excellent way to study the effects of our diet and exercise habits is to compare blood brothers or people in their native environment with members of the same families who live in our country. To do this, the Irish - born now living in the Boston area were paired off with blood brothers still living in Ireland.

THE IRISH- BORN American male must be between the ages of 30 and 65, have lived 10 or more years in the Boston area and have a brother living in Ireland. Brothers within 10 years of age are compared. The following differences were noted in the progress report of this three-year study.

Diet differences: The men in Ireland consume more calories and have a higher per cent of animal fat in the diet. The percentage of calories from animal protein is significantly lower.

In Ireland the men use more butter, fat pork, potatoes and bread than do the American brothers. Milk, eggs and sugar are about the same. The American brothers eat more beef, maragine and oil, fruits and vegetables than do the brothers in Ireland.

Weights, blood pressure and cholesterol differences: The Irish-born American is significantly heavier and fatter than his Irish brother. There is a trend toward more hypertension in the Boston Irish, and serum cholesterol was found to be significantly higher in the Boston group.

ACTIVITY: It has been found, as expected, that the men in Ireland are far more physically active than their Boston brothers. In Ireland many are farmers. Bicycling and walking are the common methods of travel. In Boston the men operate their own cars or belong to a car pool and have less chance to exercise.

Conclusions: Exercise is the vital factor. Although the Irishmen consumed an average of 600 calories a day more than their Boston brothers, and 10 per cent more animal fat, the Irishmen weighed 8 per cent less than their American brothers. Investigators concluded that exercise may be of significance in limiting the incidence of coronary heart disease. Exercise may be even more important when a diet high in animal fat is consumed.

First Lady Plans Speech Saturday In Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flies Saturday to the hard coal country of Pennsylvania to give a speech and to see how Uncle Sam is helping miners and towns struck by unemployment.

The First Lady delivers her brief address at the dedication of a new research center at Wilkes College, Wilkes - Barre, built with the aid of federal funds.

The research center, operated on a grant from the Ford Foundation, determines a community's training needs to attract new industries to the pinched anthracite area and thus provide new jobs.

Mrs. Johnson made a similar excursion into depressed areas of West Virginia last spring when her husband was vice president to call attention to the work of the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Mrs. Johnson will be accompanied on her one-day trip to the Wilkes-Barre area by ARA Administrator William L. Batt Jr. and will look over a number of projects where coal miners are being retrained for new trades.

Voting Officials Seen With More Responsibilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says the responsibilities of election officials will be greater than ever in 1964.

In an address to the 15th annual convention of the Ohio Association of Election Officials Monday night, Brown said this year's presidential election will bring a great number of votes and great activity for his office and the state's boards of election.

Brown also said election officials had a part in the stabilizing period which followed the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The smoothness with which the change in presidency took place, he said, would have been impossible in any nation except one whose representative institutions are as deeply rooted as the United States'.

Otterbein Student Cited For Extortion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An 18 - year - old Otterbein College student from Pittsburgh has been arrested by the FBI and jailed here on a warrant charging violation of federal extortion laws.

Howard S. Lewinter, a freshman, was charged with sending a female student at the college a letter containing obscene language and threats of bodily harm. Lewinter was placed in Franklin County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

New Youngstown Mayor Sets Plan To Fight Vice

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Anthony B. Flask, the new mayor of Youngstown, says war against all forms of vice is high in his administration's plans for the city.

He told his Intelligence and Security Squad Monday that he is concerned with the squad's work "because my administration is at stake."

Meanwhile, seven witnesses appeared before the Mahoning County grand jury as it resumed its racket probe and 48 more were subpoenaed to appear.

Officials Concerned Over Deaths Of Fish

NEW RICHMOND, Ohio (AP) — Conservation officials from two states are concerned about the mass deaths of fish in the Ohio River.

Acting Mayor Paul Strittmatter said hundreds of dead fish have been counted along the Ohio's banks. He said the dead fish had a red fungus around heir gills. Dead ducks and mussels also have been found.

Ohio and Kentucky conservation officials and the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission are investigating the deaths.

Harry Kramer, U.S. Public Health Service scientist at the Robert A. Taft Sanitary Engineering Center in Cincinnati, said he would make tests on the dead fish.

Kentucky Upset By Vanderbilt, 85-83

Miller's Last Second Shot Wins It

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a long slide from the No. 1 college basketball ranking in the country to the bottom of the Southeastern Conference but Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats have completed the trip in less than a week.

Kentucky led the country in last week's Associated Press poll. Then the Wildcats ran into their first conference foe, Georgia Tech. The Engineers demolished the Wildcats and the loss dropped Kentucky to No. 2 in this week's poll. Monday night it was Vanderbilt and today the Wildcats find themselves peeking out of the conference basement with an 0-2 record.

John Ed Miller was the star for seventh-ranked Vanderbilt in an 85-83 thriller. His last second jump from 30 feet out won it. Roger Schurig led Vandy with 22 and Miller added 18. Terry Gibson's 19 topped the losers.

The game had been billed as a battle of SEC titans but instead it was a struggle to escape the conference cellar. Vanderbilt's opening league loss to Tennessee had left it tied with Kentucky in the basement but now the Wildcats are all alone. Well, almost alone. Kentucky does have some company. Tulane shares last place after dropping its 11th straight game, 87-83 to Georgia. Chances are Kentucky will break its cellar lease before its co-tenant does.

In other college conference play another pre-season favorite ran into trouble. Kansas State, a Big Eight power, ran up a 14-point bulge on Colorado with less than 12 minutes to play, then suddenly lost the range and eventually the game, 60-59.

Steve Thomas broke a Xavier scoring record with 50 points and Bryan Williams added 27. John Schramm had 26 and Dorrie Murray 25 for the losers, who trailed throughout after Xavier hit 14 of its first 22 shots.

In other major games, Northwestern downed Indiana 79-65, Michigan State clouted Wisconsin 106-90, Nebraska dumped Iowa State 55-52, Oklahoma State outscored Kansas 64-48, Missouri stopped Oklahoma 84-74, Furman beat Wake Forest 66-58, George Washington whipped Virginia Tech 96-89, The Citadel topped William and Mary 63-60, Mississippi slipped by Auburn 59-58, Mississippi State downed Alabama 69-56, Louisiana State whacked Florida 87-65 and Arizona knocked off Seattle 59-55.

Xavier's victory over Detroit gave the Musketeers an 8-3 season record. Detroit now is 5-6.

Xavier had taken an early 28-9 lead, but the Titans fought back to within four points, 44-40, with less than five minutes left in the first period. Then Xavier pulled away again and the halftime score was 62-48.

Findlay blew a 46-32 halftime lead, and Acquinas tied the score at 75-75 with seconds left to play. Findlay was led by A.R. Charnes with 18 points. But three Aquinas players took scoring honors, Dennis Alexander with 22, Ray Bauer with 21 and Garry Fewless with 20.

NCAA Reports Colleges Behaving Better

Iowa, Centenary College Draw Year Of Probation

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association still is cracking the whip but some of the sting is gone.

"It's not that we're getting soft," Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said today after chiding five institutions for recruiting violations and relaxing sanctions against a sixth. "It's just that the colleges are behaving better—we are having fewer and fewer major abuses."

The University of Iowa and little Centenary College of Shreveport, La., each drew a one year probation. Alabama and Houston were officially reprimanded, and Washington State got off lightest of all—a word of caution.

At the same time, Indiana University, under a four-year probationary penalty, had its sanctions relaxed so that Indiana athletes might compete in events pointing to the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Leniency was the mood of the feared NCAA council, sports policy-making body of some 600 colleges and universities, in disclosing punishment for those members who had not adhered strictly to the rules.

They included:

1. A football player who held a campus job during summer school and received pay for work he didn't perform. This happened in 1961.

2. A basketball player, holding an off-campus job, received a $75 advance from his employer and then dropped out of school before paying back the money.

3. A group of basketball players visiting the campus were given uniforms and permitted to practice with members of the university team, at times in presence of the coaches.

4. A football player was contacted at another institution without Iowa first contacting the athletic director of the other school.

The council frowned on these acts but said, like a forgiving parent, that they "did not reflect any pattern and disregard for the governing rules of the association."

Centenary was accused of transporting prospective basketball players to the campus and back in a private company airplane in violation of the sanity code.

"It happened more than once," Byers said, but added that the school authorities had been most penitent and cooperative in the investigations.

Houston had its wrist slapped for transporting two football-players to the campus in a private plane. This became a violation when the representative failed to accompany the prospects, who wound up not entering the school after all.

Alabama was censured and reprimanded because its coaches contacted a football player who was enrolled at another school without notifying the other school's ahtletic director.

Alabama officials said it was a matter of misinterpretation of the words "student athlete" since the player in question had not competed at the other school but had entered merely to get proper credits.

Washington State was cautioned for a similar violation involving a track athlete. The punishment was lighter because Washington State reported the violation itself, Byers said.

Under the move, Indiana athletes, previously barred from postseason activity and title events, were given permission to compete in any competition pointing to the Tokyo Olympics.

Midland Eyes 11th Win; 4 Games Slated Tonight

Midland is favored to win its 11th straight of the season when it tangles with Section 8 foe Riverside tonight on the Leopards' floor in one of four games scheduled for district teams.

Coach Hank Kuzma's team also will be shooting for its fifth straight victory in Section 8 play.

Oak Glen, after tasting victory for the first time this season last week, plays host to Weirton Madonna tonight. The Golden Bears hit the win trail with a victory over Beaver Local.

In another Section 8 game tonight, New Brighton invades Western Beaver. The New Brighton five show a 3-1 League record while Western Beaver hasn't won in five loop battles.

Wucherer Shoots 725

The 53-year-old manager and instructor of the Friendly Bowling Center on Walnut St., fired a 725 series Monday night in the National League to record the highest series ever rolled in the East Liverpool City Bowling Association.

"I've waited 23 years for a 700 series," Butch said. He had been close to the magic series several times in his long bowling career. He hit 698 one time and 697 on another occasion.

He couldn't have been better Monday night. Butch put together games of 228, 242 then wound up with a 255. He is a member of the Yanni Dairy Isle team in the National Loop.

Over the three games, Wucherer fired 24 strikes. At one time he put together 13 strikes ending with five in the second game and chalking up eight straight in the third game before missing.

LA Crown, $7,500 Go To Harney

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golfer Paul Harney, who thought he'd never win another tournament until he captured the $50,000 Los Angeles Open, is a fellow who thinks tournament golf is for the birds — and he doesn't mean golf birdies.

Harney headed for his adopted home at Sunset Oaks near Sacramento, Calif. Tuesday, richer by $7,500 for his biggest victory after nine years on the tournament circuit.

The 34-year-old product of Worcester, Mass. shot an even par 71 for a 72-hole total of 280, four strokes under par for the distance, leaving behind the celebrated Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion Julius Boros and a few others who kept yipping at his heels but could never quite catch him in the final round.

Bobby Nichols was second, with a 71 for 281. Palmer, who could never get any closer than two shots of the front runner Monday afternoon, finished in a four-way tie for third at 282.

Palmer had a 70, his third and his lowest score of the tournament. Tied with Palmer were Bob Goalby, 67; Dow Finsterwald, 78, and Al Geiberger, 70.

UCLA Moves To Top Spot; Wildcats Slip To Second

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Okay UCLA, it's your turn to face the jinx.

For the second week in a row a new team turns up at the top of the Associated Press' basketball poll and UCLA hopes to stick around a bit longer than last week's leader, Kentucky. The Wildcats lasted just one week after grabbing the top spot from Loyola of Chicago.

Loyola led the poll from its first week but seemed to be struggling and finally slipped against Georgetown, D.C. Kentucky took over and ran into Georgia Tech. Now it's undefeated UCLA sitting on top.

The Bruins grabbed the top spot by polling 31 first place votes of the 41 cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Kentucky was favored by only two voters for the top spot but mustered enough points to outdistance Lyola of Chicago for the runner-up spot.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for each first place ballot, nine for second, etc.

Cincinnati dropped two of three on a Western trip last week and slipped from fourth to eighth. Michigan jumped one spot to fourth and undefeated Davidson climbed to fifth after being No. 7 last week.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

	Pts.
1. UCLA (31)	391
2. Kentucky (2)	322
3. Loyola (1)	308
4. Michigan (2)	264
5. Davidson (3)	238
6. Oregon State (2)	160
7. Vanderbilt	124
8. Cincinnati	104
9. Villanova	84
10. Duke	79

Too Big Of Curve Ball Weakness Of AL Rookie

CHICAGO (AP)—Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, American League Rookie of the Year in 1963, is a pitcher with too big of a curve ball.

"That's his only weakness," said Sox pitching coach Ray Berres. "We've been working on cutting it down this winter. Gary has been working with our Sarasota team of the Florida Instructional League."

Southpaw Peters will be shooting for 20 victories this year after a rookie mark of 19-8. He had a 2.33 earned run average, struck out 189 and walked 68.

"That big curve is his only problem," Berres said. "It leaves the ball hanging there to be hit out of the park. Or it comes in sometimes and hits a batter's feet. We're cutting it down, so when he does throw a curve it will get over the plate. His slider still explodes up there. But his curve is so big a batter can anticipate it."

"I want it to break about one foot," he said. "It has been breaking two feet. But I won't know if I have it licked until I start throwing hard."

Peters won 11 games in a row in one stretch in compiling his 19 triumphs last year. But he slumped from Labor Day on, and failed in four attempts to nail No. 20.

"My arm just got tired, and I didn't have any snap in my delivery," he said. "We had a lot of injuries to our starting pitchers late in the year and I worked several times with only two or three days rest. So did Juan Pizarro and he came up with a sore arm. Mine didn't get sore, but there wasn't much life left in it.

"After working on my curve and pick-off move to first base, I'm satisfied that I'll be a better pitcher. Barring injury I should have a better year this time. Remember, I wasn't even a starting pitcher for the first month in 1963."

Mickey Wright Selected Woman Athlete Of Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The willowy blonde belter of the women's professional golf tour, Mickey Wright, was "flabbergasted" and "delighted" when told she had been named Woman Athlete of the Year.

She massed 311 points to 127 for tennis star Maria Bueno in second place and was first choice on 87 of the 134 ballots cast.

The golf star won 13 official tournaments on the ladies Professional Golf Association tour last year. She racked up $34,027 in prize money, too, the most ever by a woman golfer in one year.

Parma Football Coach Quits After 12 Years

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Brugge, head football coach at Parma High School for 12 years, announced his resignation Monday night. But he said he may stay at the school as assistant track coach and physical education instructor.

The former Ohio State star led Parma to its first Lake Erie League football championship and undefeated season in 1958. He followed with two more consecutive league crowns and a co-championship. The Redmen were 2-8 last season.

Cincinnati U. Cager Troubled With Grades

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roland West remained uncertain today whether he can stay on the University of Cincinnati basketball team. He has trouble with his grades.

John Serbin, reported earlier as facing possible suspension, will probably see action against St. Louis Saturday night.

Coach Ed Jucker said Serbin "missed a curfew after the Utah game and we suspended him for the rest of the trip. He's back with us now."

Floyd Gains Victory In Comeback

STOCKHOLM (AP) — "I'll never give up my hope for a chance to meet Sonny Liston again but I realize that maybe I don't deserve it yet. I want some more matches here first."

That was Floyd Patterson's reaction to his Monday night victory over Sante Amonti, the first short step on his comeback campaign after failing to survive the first round of two title bouts with Liston.

"I consider the victory a step on the road toward a new chance at the world heavyweight title," said Patterson, who stopped Amonti in 2.25 of the eighth round of a 10-round match after knocking him down three times.

In fact there was doubt that Amonti would be approved as an opponent. In 1961 he had been involved in an auto accident in which a woman was killed. At the trial the boxer reportedly told the judge he lost his eyesight for an instant just before the accident. The judge recommended that his driver's license be revoked and a new hearing is pending. However, the European Boxing Union approved the Italian as an opponent for the ex-champ.

The last knockdown in the eighth found Amonti reeling back and finally sitting on the bottom rope. He got up, tried to move and finally accepted the inevitable. The Italian opened his arms wide in a gesture of resignation, a familiar ending for a European bout.

Finley Needs OK From AL Owners For Shift Of Athletics To Louisville

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Despite a blistering attack on his plan from other American League club owners, Charles O. Finley said today he is certain he will be permitted to transfer the Athletics from Kansas City to Louisville.

Finley said he would accept Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's invitation and would go before the Kentucky General Assembly at its opening session today in Frankfort "not to plead but to ask for their (the lawmakers) support."

"I think—no, I'm confident—the fans here will give as much support, if not more, to major league baseball as those in Kansas City," said the Athletics' owner, putting the emphasis on the confident.

Finley said he was looking forward to the Jan. 16 meeting of the club owners — knowing that three negative votes would defeat his plan.

"I'm not concerned about how many votes it takes to knock something out," he said.

"I'm confident after I have met with them and explained my problems, there will be no difficulty in getting the votes needed."

Finley signed a contract with the State of Kentucky Monday to bring the Athletics to Louisville for the 1964 and 1965 seasons. The signing in Frankfort raised the ire of several of the American League club owners.

Under the pact with the state, the Athletics would play at the State Fairgrounds at Louisville. The state would get five per cent of net gate proceeds and 7½ per cent of gross concession funds.

Finley said nothing was definite at the end of the two-year period about moving to other cities. The Athletics' owner and Kansas City officials have deadlocked over a new contract for lease of a stadium.

Two Are Killed In Wheeling Area Car-Truck Crash

By The Associated Press

George Carl, 46, driver of the jeep, and Ernest Truelove, 35, both of the Warwood section of Wheeling, were killed in the crash on W.Va. 2 about seven miles north of Wheeling. They were on their way to work at an electric power plant at Beech Bottom.

The body of a second victim of a weekend accident near Clendenin was recovered from the Elk River Monday by a rescue squad. The victim was Darrell Barker, 19, of Clendenin.

He evidently was thrown into the water when a car in which he was riding ran off W.Va. 4 north of Clendenin Sunday night, knocked down a utility pole and plunged to the edge of the river.

The accident also took the life of Larry E. Wineke, 22, of Coal Grove, Ohio. Found beside the car, he was dead on arrival at a Charleston hospital. Death was attributed to a broken neck.

Arrested For Attacks

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton police have arrested a 27-year-old man who they say has admitted raping three women during the past two weeks. They said Robert Clayton Brown was traced with a composite drawing prepared by Sgt. Al Zennie from descriptions given by victims.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, often mentioned in speculation about the Democratic vice presidential nominee, says he's not a candidate.

Ribicoff, 53, was secretary of welfare in President Kennedy's Cabinet. Hewas in Los Angeles to make a speech.

NEW YORK (AP) — From television commercials to the Metropolitan Opera. That long journey was completed Monday night by soprana Mary Costa.

Miss Costa has been singing with the San Francisco Opera since 1960.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur says he once faced the threat of dismissal from West Point because he wouldn't inform on upper classmen.

MacArthur said that shortly after he entered the U.S. Military Academy in 1899 he was called as a witness against cadets after a hazing.

"Under questioning," MacArthur recalled, "I explained fully all circumstances of the matter but refused to divulge the names of the upper classmen involved. My mother and father had taught me two immutable principles — never to lie, never to tattle.

"But if the court insisted and ordered me to reveal the names and I then refused to obey the order, it would in all likelihood mean my dismissal and the end of my hopes and dreams."

MacArthur said that today, 60 years later, he could still "feel the beads of sweat on my brow."

Kentucky Upset By Vanderbilt, 85-83

Miller's Last Second Shot Wins It

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a long slide from the No. 1 college basketball ranking in the country to the bottom of the Southeastern Conference but Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats have completed the trip in less than a week.

Kentucky led the country in last week's Associated Press poll. Then the Wildcats ran into their first conference foe, Georgia Tech. The Engineers demolished the Wildcats and the loss dropped Kentucky to No. 2 in this week's poll. Monday night it was Vanderbilt and today the Wildcats find themselves peeking out of the conference basement with an 0-2 record.

John Ed Miller was the star for seventh-ranked Vanderbilt in an 85-83 thriller. His last second jump from 30 feet out won it. Roger Schurig led Vandy with 22 and Miller added 18. Terry Gibson's 19 topped the losers.

The game had been billed as a battle of SEC titans but instead it was a struggle to escape the conference cellar. Vanderbilt's opening league loss to Tennessee had left it tied with Kentucky in the basement but now the Wildcats are all alone. Well, almost alone. Kentucky does have some company. Tulane shares last place after dropping its 11th straight game, 87-83 to Georgia. Chances are Kentucky will break its cellar lease before its co-tenant does.

In other college conference play another pre-season favorite ran into trouble. Kansas State, a Big Eight power, ran up a 14-point bulge on Colorado with less than 12 minutes to play, then suddenly lost the range and eventually the game, 60-59.

Utah State handed Utah its second loss in thirteen starts, 84-72 in a nonconference clash.

There were plenty of points in the Xavier of Ohio-Detroit game with Xavier winning 121-113.

Steve Thomas broke a Xavier scoring record with 50 points and Bryan Williams added 27. John Schramm had 26 and Dorrie Murray 25 for the losers, who trailed throughout after Xavier hit 14 of its first 22 shots.

South Carolina shot 60 per cent from the field and handed Maryland its first Atlantic Coast Conference setback 73-69.

In other major games, Northwestern downed Indiana 79-65, Michigan State clouted Wisconsin 106-90, Nebraska dumped Iowa State 55-52, Oklahoma State outscored Kansas 64-48, Missouri stopped Oklahoma 84-74, Furman beat Wake Forest 66-58, George Washington whipped Virginia Tech 96-89, The Citadel topped William and Mary 63-60, Mississippi slipped by Auburn 59-58, Mississippi State downed Alabama 69-56, Louisiana State whacked Florida 87-65 and Arizona knocked off Seattle 59-55.

Xavier's victory over Detroit gave the Musketeers an 8-3 season record. Detroit now is 5-6.

Xavier had taken an early 28-9 lead, but the Titans fought back to within four points, 44-40, with less than five minutes left in the first period. Then Xavier pulled away again and the halftime score was 62-48.

Only one other game was on the Ohio cage card Monday night. Findlay took a home court overtime victory over Aquinas College of Detroit, 84-81.

Findlay blew a 46-32 halftime lead, and Acquinas tied the score at 75-75 with seconds left to play. Findlay was led by A.R. Charnes with 18 points. But three Aquinas players took scoring honors, Dennis Alexander with 22, Ray Bauer with 21 and Garry Fewless with 20.

Findlay now is 6-2 for the season.

Midland Eyes 11th Win; 4 Games Slated Tonight

Midland is favored to win its 11th straight of the season when it tangles with Section 8 foe Riverside tonight on the Leopards' floor in one of four games scheduled for district teams.

Coach Hank Kuzma's team also will be shooting for its fifth straight victory in Section 8 play.

Oak Glen, after tasting victory for the first time this season last week, plays host to Weirton Madonna tonight. The Golden Bears hit the win trail with a victory over Beaver Local.

In another Section 8 game tonight, New Brighton invades Western Beaver. The New Brighton five show a 3-1 League record while Western Beaver hasn't won in five loop battles.

The other game tonight finds Stanton Local traveling to Wayne.

Wucherer Shoots 725

The 53-year-old manager and instructor of the Friendly Bowling Center on Walnut St., fired a 725 series Monday night in the National League to record the highest series ever rolled in the East Liverpool City Bowling Association.

He is shown above adding up his three games to reach the 725 total.

"I've waited 23 years for a 700 series," Butch said. He had been close to the magic series several times in his long bowling career. He hit 698 one time and 697 on another occasion.

He couldn't have been better Monday night. Butch put together games of 228, 242 then wound up with a 255. He is a member of the Yanni Dairy Isle team in the National Loop.

Over the three games, Wucherer fired 24 strikes. At one time he put together 13 strikes ending with five in the second game and chalking up eight straight in the third game before missing.

The 725 surpassed the 723 series turned in by Ed Blaser over a year ago.

NCAA Reports Colleges Behaving Better

Iowa, Centenary College Draw Year Of Probation

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association still is cracking the whip but some of the sting is gone.

"It's not that we're getting soft," Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said today after chiding five institutions for recruiting violations and relaxing sanctions against a sixth. "It's just that the colleges are behaving better—we are having fewer and fewer major abuses."

The University of Iowa and little Centenary College of Shreveport, La., each drew a one year probation. Alabama and Houston were officially reprimanded, and Washington State got off lightest of all—a word of caution.

At the same time, Indiana University, under a four-year probationary penalty, had its sanctions relaxed so that Indiana athletes might compete in events pointing to the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Leniency was the mood of the feared NCAA council, sports policy-making body of some 600 colleges and universities, in disclosing punishment for those members who had not adhered strictly to the rules.

Besides Indiana, New Mexico State, Hardin-Simmons, Dayton and Colorado are major universities which have been slapped with sanctions in recent years. Most of these sanctions end this year.

They included:

1. A football player who held a campus job during summer school and received pay for work he didn't perform. This happened in 1961.

2. A basketball player, holding an off-campus job, received a $75 advance from his employer and then dropped out of school before paying back the money.

3. A group of basketball players visiting the campus were given uniforms and permitted to practice with members of the university team, at times in presence of the coaches.

4. A football player was contacted at another institution without Iowa first contacting the athletic director of the other school.

The council frowned on these acts but said, like a forgiving parent, that they "did not reflect any pattern and disregard for the governing rules of the association."

Centenary was accused of transporting prospective basketball players to the campus and back in a private company airplane in violation of the sanity code.

"It happened more than once," Byers said, but added that the school authorities had been most penitent and cooperative in the investigations.

Houston had its wrist slapped for transporting two football-players to the campus in a private plane. This became a violation when the representative failed to accompany the prospects, who wound up not entering the school after all.

Alabama was censured and reprimanded because its coaches contacted a football player who was enrolled at another school without notifying the other school's ahtletic director.

Alabama officials said it was a matter of misinterpretation of the words "student athlete" since the player in question had not competed at the other school but had entered merely to get proper credits.

Washington State was cautioned for a similar violation involving a track athlete. The punishment was lighter because Washington State reported the violation itself, Byers said.

Under the move, Indiana athletes, previously barred from postseason activity and title events, were given permission to compete in any competition pointing to the Tokyo Olympics.

This opened the door for Indiana's fine squad of swimmers, including several record holders, basketball players, gymnasts and wrestlers.

LA Crown, $7,500 Go To Harney

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golfer Paul Harney, who thought he'd never win another tournament until he captured the $50,000 Los Angeles Open, is a fellow who thinks tournament golf is for the birds — and he doesn't mean golf birdies.

Harney headed for his adopted home at Sunset Oaks near Sacramento, Calif. Tuesday, richer by $7,500 for his biggest victory after nine years on the tournament circuit.

The 34-year-old product of Worcester, Mass. shot an even par 71 for a 72-hole total of 280, four strokes under par for the distance, leaving behind the celebrated Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion Julius Boros and a few others who kept yipping at his heels but could never quite catch him in the final round.

Bobby Nichols was second, with a 71 for 281. Palmer, who could never get any closer than two shots of the front runner Monday afternoon, finished in a four-way tie for third at 282.

Palmer had a 70, his third and his lowest score of the tournament. Tied with Palmer were Bob Goalby, 67; Dow Finsterwald, 78, and Al Geiberger, 70.

Bobby Nichols, $4,000 69-68-73-71—281

Arnold Palmer, $2,775 70-70-72-70—282

Bob Goalby, $2,775 69-74-72-67—282

Al Geiberger, $2,775 70-69-73-70—282

Tommy Jacobs, $1,950 69-68-76-70—283

Floyd Gains Victory In Comeback

STOCKHOLM (AP) — "I'll never give up my hope for a chance to meet Sonny Liston again but I realize that maybe I don't deserve it yet. I want some more matches here first."

That was Floyd Patterson's reaction to his Monday night victory over Sante Amonti, the first short step on his comeback campaign after failing to survive the first round of two title bouts with Liston.

"I consider the victory a step on the road toward a new chance at the world heavyweight title," said Patterson, who stopped Amonti in 2:25 of the eighth round of a 10-round match after knocking him down three times.

In fact there was doubt that Amonti would be approved as an opponent. In 1961 he had been involved in an auto accident in which a woman was killed. At the trial the boxer reportedly told the judge he lost his eyesight for an instant just before the accident. The judge recommended that his driver's license be revoked and a new hearing is pending. However, the European Boxing Union approved the Italian as an opponent for the ex-champ.

The last knockdown in the eighth found Amonti reeling back and finally sitting on the bottom rope. He got up, tried to move and finally accepted the inevitable. The Italian opened his arms wide in a gesture of resignation, a familiar ending for a European bout.

UCLA Moves To Top Spot; Wildcats Slip To Second

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Okay UCLA, it's your turn to face the jinx.

For the second week in a row a new team turns up at the top of the Associated Press' basketball poll and UCLA hopes to stick around a bit longer than last week's leader, Kentucky. The Wildcats lasted just one week after grabbing the top spot from Loyola of Chicago.

Loyola led the poll from its first week but seemed to be struggling and finally slipped against Georgetown, D.C. Kentucky took over and ran into Georgia Tech. Now it's undefeated UCLA sitting on top.

The Bruins grabbed the top spot by polling 31 first place votes of the 41 cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Kentucky was favored by only two voters for the top spot but mustered enough points to outdistance Lyola of Chicago for the runner-up spot.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for each first place ballot, nine for second, etc.

Cincinnati dropped two of three on a Western trip last week and slipped from fourth to eighth. Michigan jumped one spot to fourth and undefeated Davidson climbed to fifth after being No. 7 last week.

Oregon State scrambled into sixth place ahead of Vanderbilt, another upset victim last week. Villanova and Duke complete the listing.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

	Pts.
1. UCLA (31)	391
2. Kentucky (2)	322
3. Loyola (1)	308
4. Michigan (2)	264
5. Davidson (3)	238
6. Oregon State (2)	160
7. Vanderbilt	124
8. Cincinnati	104
9. Villanova	84
10. Duke	79

Too Big Of Curve Ball Weakness Of AL Rookie

CHICAGO (AP)—Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, American League Rookie of the Year in 1963, is a pitcher with too big of a curve ball.

"That's his only weakness," said Sox pitching coach Ray Berres. "We've been working on cutting it down this winter. Gary has been working with our Sarasota team of the Florida Instructional League."

Southpaw Peters will be shooting for 20 victories this year after a rookie mark of 19-8. He had a 2.33 earned run average, struck out 189 and walked 68.

"That big curve is his only problem," Berres said. "It leaves the ball hanging there to be hit out of the park. Or it comes in sometimes and hits a batter's feet. We're cutting it down, so when he does throw a curve it will get over the plate. His slider still explodes up there. But his curve is so big a batter can anticipate it."

"I want it to break about one foot," he said. "It has been breaking two feet. But I won't know if I have it licked until I start throwing hard."

Peters won 11 games in a row in one stretch in compiling his 19 triumphs last year. But he slumped from Labor Day on, and failed in four attempts to nail No. 20.

"My arm just got tired, and I didn't have any snap in my delivery," he said. "We had a lot of injuries to our starting pitchers late in the year and I worked several times with only two or three days rest. So did Juan Pizarro and he came up with a sore arm. Mine didn't get sore, but there wasn't much life left in it.

"After working on my curve and pick-off move to first base, I'm satisfied that I'll be a better pitcher. Barring injury I should have a better year this time. Remember, I wasn't even a starting pitcher for the first month in 1963."

Cincinnati U. Cager Troubled With Grades

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roland West remained uncertain today whether he can stay on the University of Cincinnati basketball team. He has trouble with his grades.

John Serbin, reported earlier as facing possible suspension, will probably see action against St. Louis Saturday night.

Coach Ed Jucker said Serbin "missed a curfew after the Utah game and we suspended him for the rest of the trip. He's back with us now."

Mickey Wright Selected Woman Athlete Of Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The willowy blonde belter of the women's professional golf tour, Mickey Wright, was "flabbergasted" and "delighted" when told she had been named Woman Athlete of the Year.

Miss Wright, a native of California who now calls Dallas her home, won the honor in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

She massed 311 points to 127 for tennis star Maria Bueno in second place and was first choice on 87 of the 134 ballots cast.

The golf star won 13 official tournaments on the ladies Professional Golf Association tour last year. She racked up $34,027 in prize money, too, the most ever by a woman golfer in one year.

Parma Football Coach Quits After 12 Years

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Brugge, head football coach at Parma High School for 12 years, announced his resignation Monday night. But he said he may stay at the school as assistant track coach and physical education instructor.

The former Ohio State star led Parma to its first Lake Erie League football championship and undefeated season in 1958. He followed with two more consecutive league crowns and a co-championship. The Redmen were 2-8 last season.

Finley Needs OK From AL Owners For Shift Of Athletics To Louisville

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Despite a blistering attack on his plan from other American League club owners, Charles O. Finley said today he is certain he will be permitted to transfer the Athletics from Kansas City to Louisville.

Finley said he would accept Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's invitation and would go before the Kentucky General Assembly at its opening session today in Frankfort "not to plead but to ask for their (the lawmakers) support."

"I think—no, I'm confident—the fans here will give as much support, if not more, to major league baseball as those in Kansas City," said the Athletics' owner, putting the emphasis on the confident.

Finley said he was looking forward to the Jan. 16 meeting of the club owners — knowing that three negative votes would defeat his plan.

"I'm not concerned about how many votes it takes to knock something out," he said.

"I'm confident after I have met with them and explained my problems, there will be no difficulty in getting the votes needed."

Finley signed a contract with the State of Kentucky Monday to bring the Athletics to Louisville for the 1964 and 1965 seasons. The signing in Frankfort raised the ire of several of the American League club owners.

Under the pact with the state, the Athletics would play at the State Fairgrounds at Louisville. The state would get five per cent of net gate proceeds and 7½ per cent of gross concession funds.

Finley said nothing was definite at the end of the two-year period about moving to other cities. The Athletics' owner and Kansas City officials have deadlocked over a new contract for lease of a stadium.

Two Are Killed In Wheeling Area Car-Truck Crash

By The Associated Press

Two men were killed Monday when their jeep skidded on an ice - glazed highway north of Wheeling and slammed broadside into an oncoming truck.

George Carl, 46, driver of the jeep, and Ernest Truelove, 35, both of the Warwood section of Wheeling, were killed in the crash on W.Va. 2 about seven miles north of Wheeling. They were on their way to work at an electric power plant at Beech Bottom.

The body of a second victim of a weekend accident near Clendenin was recovered from the Elk River Monday by a rescue squad. The victim was Darrell Barker, 19, of Clendenin.

He evidently was thrown into the water when a car in which he was riding ran off W.Va. 4 north of Clendenin Sunday night, knocked down a utility pole and plunged to the edge of the river.

The accident also took the life of Larry E. Wineke, 22, of Coal Grove, Ohio. Found beside the car, he was dead on arrival at a Charleston hospital. Death was attributed to a broken neck.

Arrested For Attacks

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton police have arrested a 27-year-old man who they say has admitted raping three women during the past two weeks. They said Robert Clayton Brown was traced with a composite drawing prepared by Sgt. Al Zennie from descriptions given by victims.

People In News

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, often mentioned in speculation about the Democratic vice presidential nominee, says he's not a candidate.

"I think there are other men more qualified for the vice presidency than I," Ribicoff told a reporter in Los Angeles.

Ribicoff, 53, was secretary of welfare in President Kennedy's Cabinet. Hewas in Los Angeles to make a speech.

BHUBANESWAR, India (AP) —Prime Minister Nehru, 74, has canceled all engegements for today because of what an official spokesman described as fatigue.

ADDIS ABABA (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie today accepted an invitation from Premier Khrushchev to visit the Soviet Union. Date of the visit was not announced.

NEW YORK (AP) — From television commercials to the Metropolitan Opera. That long journey was completed Monday night by soprana Mary Costa.

Miss Costa has been singing with the San Francisco Opera since 1960.

She did no singing in TV commercials. But movie fans heard her voice as that of "The Sleeping Beauty" in the movie cartoon feature.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur says he once faced the threat of dismissal from West Point because he wouldn't inform on upper classmen.

He told the story in the first of seven installments of his memoirs, printed in the Jan. 10 issue of Life magazine.

MacArthur said that shortly after he entered the U.S. Military Academy in 1899 he was called as a witness against cadets after a hazing.

"Under questioning," MacArthur recalled, "I explained fully all circumstances of the matter but refused to divulge the names of the upper classmen involved. My mother and father had taught me two immutable principles — never to lie, never to tattle.

"But if the court insisted and ordered me to reveal the names and I then refused to obey the order, it would in all likelihood mean my dismissal and the end of my hopes and dreams."

MacArthur said that today, 60 years later, he could still "feel the beads of sweat on my brow."

Junior Editors Quiz on OZONE

QUESTION: Is ozone poisonous, or is it of value to us?

ANSWER: Ozone is gas found everywhere in the upper air, where it is formed by sunlight acting on oxygen. Its molecules have three atoms where as oxygen molecules have only two. Ozone's extra atom can split off easily and can attack other things like dirt and soot. So, it is ozone often used to destroy germs.

Just by itself, ozone is highly poisonous. But when distributed thinly through the air, ozone is a friend to all of us, which is why our artist has shown it symbolically as a friendly spirit hovering over the boys who are feeling so good on a brisk day with a blue sky. This kindly gas absorbs the high-frequency light waves coming from the sun, which would harm us severely unless ozone was there to stop them. Winds from aloft bear it down, especially on blue-sky days, when we are conscious of a bracing effect in the air and feel full of health and high spirits.

When there are electric sparks from a motor or other electric device, ozone is being formed, and the peculiar smell you may notice when electric sparks occur comes from this gas.

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a walk on one of those fine blue-sky days and fill your chest with the good air old man ozone has cleaned and purified for you.

★ ★ ★

Jimmy McKnight of Augusta, Ga., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this date in 1929, the U.S. Army airplane "Question Mark" landed at Los Angeles after setting an endurance record of 150 hours and 40 minutes aloft. The pilots were Maj. Carl Spaatz and Capt. Ira Eaker, each of whom later became generals and served with distinction in World War II.

On this date:

In 1789, George Washington was unanimously chosen president in the first national election in the United States and John Adams was named the first vice president.

In 1938, Joseph P. Kennedy was appointed U.S. ambassador to England.

Ten years ago — President Eisenhower delivered his second State of the Union message in which he asked the 83rd Congress to moderate but sustain the foreign and welfare policies of the Roosevelt New Deal.

Five years ago — The U.S., Britain and other powers recognized Cuba's new regime after that government gave assurances it would honor its obligations.

One year ago—In a partial shift of policy the United States agreed to lend Brazil 30 million dollars to provide that South American nation with emergency aid.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: One of the fascinating aspects of writing this column is the wide range of opinions expressed by people who write to me.

Recently I printed a letter from a graduate of New York University. She had been elected to Phi Beta Kappa and wore her Phi Beta Kappa Key on a chain around her neck. A girl friend pulled her off to the side at a party and told her it was "in poor taste." I disagreed—and suggested that perhaps her friend was jealous.

A deluge of letters has been pouring in from readers who disagree with me. These dissenters cannot be brushed off lightly, since they are largely Phi Beta Kappas. Here are some samples of what part of my reading has been like in recent weeks:

From Battle Creek: Your reply to the girl who signed herself "Yonkers" showed a shocking lack of knowledge. The majority of Phi Beta Kappas (I'm only one of the vast number) wouldn't be caught dead wearing the key.

FROM GREEN BAY, WIS.: I was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in my junior year at the University of Wisconsin. I had the key made into a pin and I wore it exactly once. The young man who took me out that evening greeted me with, "Oh, I see you're wearing your 'I'm brainy medal,' tonight." The pin has not been out of the box since—and that was 10 years ago.

From Rochester, Minn.: My husband is a Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Minnesota. When we were dating I asked him a dozen times to pick up his key. He kept stalling. Then one day I realized he had no intention of picking it up at all. Finally I asked why. He replied, "Those I'd like to impress wouldn't be impressed — and those who would be impressed aren't worth impressing."

FROM HARTFORD, CONN.: My wife and I have a $5 bet. I say you are a Phi Beta Kappa. My wife says no Phi Beta Kappa would have answered "Yonkers" the way you did. In fact, she bet me an extra $5 that you didn't even go to college, and that you never would print this. How about it?—PALATINE.

Dear Pal: Your wife loses her $5 on the last two counts. I attended Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa, Morningside did not offer the Key in 1939, which provides me with a convenient excuse for not getting one. So give your wife her five bucks back. You broke even — and that's not bad.

Sister's Lament

Dear Ann: My younger sister passed away four months ago after a lingering illness. Her husband was left with two grade school youngsters.

A few days ago I ran into Elwood at an art exhibit. He had his children along, and was chatting with a good-looking woman who it turns out is the older son's teacher. I don't know if Elwood and the children ran into the teacher at the exhibit or whether they all arrived together. Of course, I didn't ask.

I did notice, however, that Elwood wasn't wearing his gold wedding ring. This was like a stab in the heart. My sister always loved to see that ring on his finger.

Shall I be frank with him and let him know I think he insulted my sister's memory when he removed his wedding ring? — SO FAR SILENT.

Dear So: It isn't disrespectful to the memory of a departed wife when a widower removes his wedding ring.

Perhaps wearing his wedding ring would be like a stab in the heart to him. So why don't you mind your own business and let Elwood handle his grief in his own way?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Scouts Close Winter Camp

Nearly 200 Boy Scouts from the Cherokee District broke camp Sunday afternoon after three days of winter adventure at the annual Polar Bear camp on the property of the Beagle Club on the Y. & O. Road.

The Boy Scouts reported to the site Friday night and were joined Saturday morning by young Cub Scouts.

The shelters later were judged by Alfred Bayless, president of the Beagle Club, and ribbons were awarded the winners.

There was a songfest and skits around a campfire Saturday night.

The Rev. Gene Toot, assistant pastor of Trinity United Presbyterian Church, conducted worship services Sunday morning before the boys broke camp.

Weather conditions were ideal, with plenty of snow and ice abounding at the country site. But the winds were strong and whipped at the makeshift leantos and tents.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1929, the U.S. Army airplane "Question Mark" landed at Los Angeles after setting an endurance record of 150 hours and 40 minutes aloft. The pilots were Maj. Carl Spaatz and Capt. Ira Eaker, each of whom later became generals and served with distinction in World War II.

On this date:

In 1789, George Washington was unanimously chosen president in the first national election in the United States and John Adams was named the first vice president.

In 1861, the convention of the seven seceding Southern states was held at Jackson, Miss., where the first flag of the Confederacy was unfurled.

In 1927, long distance radio telephone service was opened between New York and London.

Ten years ago — President Eisenhower delivered his second State of the Union message in which he asked the 83rd Congress to moderate but sustain the foreign and welfare policies of the Roosevelt New Deal.

Five years ago — The U.S., Britain and other powers recognized Cuba's new regime after that government gave assurances it would honor its obligations.

One year ago—In a partial shift of policy the United States agreed to lend Brazil 30 million dollars to provide that South American nation with emergency aid.

Junior Editors Quiz on OZONE

QUESTION: Is ozone poisonous, or is it of value to us?

ANSWER: Ozone is gas found everywhere in the upper air, where it is formed by sunlight acting on oxygen. Its molecules have three atoms where as oxygen molecules have only two. Ozone's extra atom can split off easily and can attack other things like dirt and soot. So, it is ozone often used to destroy germs.

Just by itself, ozone is highly poisonous. But when distributed thinly through the air, ozone is a friend to all of us, which is why our artist has shown it symbolically as a friendly spirit hovering over the boys who are feeling so good on a brisk day with a blue sky. This kindly gas absorbs the high-frequency light waves coming from the sun, which would harm us severely unless ozone was there to stop them. Winds from aloft bear it down, especially on blue-sky days, when we are conscious of a bracing effect in the air and feel full of health and high spirits.

When there are electric sparks from a motor or other electric device, ozone is being formed, and the peculiar smell you may notice when electric sparks occur comes from this gas.

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a walk on one of those fine blue-sky days and fill your chest with the good air old man ozone has cleaned and purified for you.
